Goerndt Is Charged With Bad Conduct

Officers To Be Named When Hearing Continues

Unseemly attentions by Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt to a female bank employee were alleged as a Sausalito Board of Review hearing on Goerndt's ouster opened last night.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, appearing for City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, who fired Goerndt, alluded to the affair in a long opening statement in which he detailed multitudinous charges by the city manager against the ousted police chief.

People filled the small hall and stood lining the walls as charges brought by Brown against Goerndt were read. Former Police Chief Louis P. Mountanos, now county sheriff, was present, as were many city employees including police officers.

FIRST WITNESS

Jordan's first witness was Donald A. Duerr, city manager when Goerndt was made chief. Second witness was Brown, but Jordan did not finish questioning him and will continue at 8 p.m. today. The hearing is expected to extend into next week, since Jordan has two other witnesses and Harry S. Wainwright and James B. Leech, attorneys for Goerndt, have 29.

The hearing was called on request of Goerndt after he was fired Aug. 7 by Brown. Goerndt remained on the job until Oct. 6.

Robert M. Gunn, chairman of the board, opened the hearing. Sitting with him as members were Paul D. Stanley, Alexander R. Imlay, Earl F. Dunphy and Charles H. Merrill. Thomas C. Nelson is serving as attorney for the board.

CHARGES READ

Brown's charges, read by Jordan, included one of conduct unbecoming an officer "in a violation which stems from relationship with a female employee of a local bank."

It continued: "Your conduct made it necessary for her employer to make administrative changes within their organization so as to reduce your constant interruptions upon her time. In finally formally criticized you of this action on Nov. 21, 1962, but shortly afterward your attentions to this employee resumed."

In a supplementary letter, also read, Brown asked that the sentence referring to administrative changes in the bank organization be stricken.

ULTIMATE FACTS

In Jordan's opening statement, he described as "the ultimate facts": Goerndt failed to perform his duties as chief satisfactorily, failed to provide leadership, failed to provide efficiency and direction, and failed to set a good example as chief of police.

Jordan brought out that Goerndt failed to get the passing grade of 70 per cent in written and oral examinations for chief.

"In spite of this the city council directed the city manager to appoint Goerndt," the attorney stated.

Jordan said a survey was made in 1962 by the California State Bureau of Identification and Investigation which pointed out police department shortcomings, many of which Brown had previously already made known to Goerndt. However,

GIORGOS SEFERIS

Nobel Prize For Literature Goes To Greek

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Greek Poet Giorgos Seferis was awarded the 1963 Nobel Prize in literature today. Seferis, a 63-year-old diplomat, is the first Greek ever to receive a Nobel Prize.

The 18-member Royal Swedish Literary Academy said Seferis was awarded the 265,000 crown ($51,158) prize "for his eminent lyrical writing, inspired by a deep feeling for the Hellenic world of culture."

'UNIQUE THOUGHT'

"Seferis' poetic production is not great in size, but because of its unique thought and style, and its beauty of language, it has become a lasting symbol of all that is indestructible in the Hellenic acceptance of life," the academy's permanent secretary, Dr. Anders Osterling(said in his citation.

"When reading Seferis we are forcibly reminded of a fact that is sometimes forgotten: Geographically Greece is not only a peninsula but also a world of water and a thousand islands, an ancient sea kingdom, the perilous and storm home of the mariner. This Greece is the constant background of his poetry, in which it is conjured up as a vision of harsh and tender greatness."

PEN NAME

Seferis—pen name for Giorgos Seferiades—was born in Smyrna in then Greek (now Turkish) Asia Minor, Feb. 22, 1900.

In 1914 his family had to flee to Athens. From the end of World War I to 1924 Seferis studied in Paris, and in 1926 joined the Greek diplomatic service.

Seferis made his literary debut in 1931, first became really noticed with "Mythistorema" (Myth History) in 1935 and as the introducer of Eliot in Greece.

Since 1940 he has completed three parts of his great "Odyssee," called the "Log Book." Among his best known poems is "The King of Asina." Other works in later years include "The Wreck of the Thrust" in 1947 and a recent collection of literary essays.

Flare-Dropping A.F. Transport Crashes In Asia

Four Americans Believed Lost In Viet Accident

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—A U.S. Air Force C-123 transport plane carrying four Americans and four Vietnamese on a flare-dropping mission crashed and burned today in Communist-infested territory south of Saigon. An American military spokesman said "there was no evidence of survivors."

The spokesman said the plane went down in Vinh Binh Province, 65 miles south of here, about 2 a.m. The wreckage was "scattered over a wide area." What caused the crash was not known here.

NAMES WITHHELD

The four Americans comprised two officers and two enlisted men. Their names were withheld. The four Vietamese were enlisted crewmen.

Death of the Americans would bring the total of U.S. fatalities in South Viet Nam since January, 1961, to 129.

The government press agency, meantime, reported that three Frenchmen were kidnaped Tuesday by Communist guerrillas who attacked the Duc Trung strategic hamlet, 40 miles southeast of Saigon. Their fate was not known.

HOPE CAN'T GO

A U.S. Army spokesman said that an offer by comedian Bob Hope to give a Christmas show for American soldiers stationed in South Viet Nam had been "regretfully declined" for security reasons.

He explained that the U.S. military assistance command decided it would be unwise to assembly large crowds of American servicemen. American troops have been the targets of numerous terrorist bombing attacks in the past few weeks.

Hope, who has entertained U.S. armed forces in all parts of the world since World War II, offered yesterday to bring his troupe here for about two weeks in December.

A United Nations mission met with South Vietnamese government officials during the day on the politico-religious controversy which the United States fears will hamper the war against the Viet Congo Communist guerrillas.

The seven-man mission arrived yesterday to carry out an on the spot verification of charges of "violations of human rights by the government of the Republic of Viet Nam in its relations with the Buddhist community."

WHO OWNS LIMANTOUR SPIT?

Limantour Spit and Drake's Estero are shown in photo by Philip Hyde in Harold Gilliam's "Island in Time," published by the Sierra Club. Ownership of the three-mile sandspit is in question, with the answer being sought in a suit filed yesterday by the National Park Service. Crux of the problem: when, and how, did Limantour Spit come into being? An investigation of matter may go back to 1579 when Sir Francis Drake supposedly landed on Marin's shores. The spit is three miles long.

Suit Seeks To Determine If Sandy Shore Of Marin Had Shifty Past

The shifting, desolate sand dunes of Limantour Spit on the Point Reyes Peninsula will be examined closely in a federal condemnation suit which may be unique.

The suit, filed yesterday in United States District Court in San Francisco, embodies all the elements of a mystery. Its outcome will be dependent on an investigation which will reach back to when Sir Francis Drake supposedly landed the Golden Hinde in Drake's Bay in 1570.

The Interior Department, seeking the three-mile long Limantour Spit for inclusion in the Point Reyes National Seashore, filed the condemnation suit to clear up clouded title to the 100 acres of sand dunes.

What will have to be determined, according to seashore officials, is how and when the spit was formed. Depending on when that was, the spit may belong to the federal government, the state, or Drakes Beach Estates—the last reportedly seeking one million dollars for the property.

A sand dune, such as Limantour Spit, may be swept away by a single storm. It may build up over many years.

The original Spanish land grant was surveyed by the federal government in 1852. A deed and description of the land was then handed over to Rancho Punt de Los Reyes (Sobrante), owned by Andrew Randall.

Randall, according to seashore officials, then sold off bits of the area. Other owners took possession until finally Drakes Beach Estates bought the property.

Settlement of the suit will depend on whether Limantour Spit existed at the time the survey was made and if it was included in the deed to Randall.

Seashore officials point out that the spit could have been formed after the survey, by either building up from the shore or being formed from Drake's Bay toward the mainland.

Drake's maps and old charts will be presented as evidence, seahore officials said. It is widely believed Drake's landing place was opposite the end of the spit which forms one arm around Drake's Estero.

Geologists will be consulted, and old-timers will be asked to describe the area in the early 1900s, according to seashore officials.

Do-It-Yourself Paint Job Causes Fire

A do-it-yourself paint job caused a $2,000 fire yesterday in the home of Robert Bohns at 132 McAllister Avenue, Kentfield, the fire department reported today.

Bohns was removing old paint with a butane torch to prepare for repainting when the heat started a fire in the front wall of the living room that spread to the attic, reported Chief Kenneth Kamp, whose men got the alarm at 12:05 p.m.

Eight Kentfield firemen from two engine companies spent two hours putting out the blaze and mopping up. Seven Larkspur firemen stood by the Kentfield firehouse.

Burning off old paint as done by Bohns is a method used by painters, said Kamp, "but it has to be done with precise skill."

U.S. Is Selling 24 Warplanes To Australia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said today that Australia will buy 24 TFX warplanes, getting first deliveries at the same time as the U.S. Air Force and Navy in 1967.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara confirmed an earlier announcement in Australia regarding agreement reached after recent discussions between McNamara and Defense Minister Athol Townley of Australia.

To provide Australia with interim long-range bomber and reconnaisance capability, the United States also is providing two squadrons of B-47 medium bombers and reconnaissance bombers.

Two Ships Collide In Heavy Fog

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Navy destroyer-escort and a Swedish ore carrier collided in heavy fog at the entrance to Baltimore harbor in Chesapeake Bay today. No one was injured.

The Coast Guard said the Roberts reported a one and one-half foot gash in her starboard quarter but said flooding was controlled and no assistance was needed.

The 584-foot Swedish ship, the Luossa, was not believed to be damaged, the Coast Guard said.

The ships collided in heavy fog which had hung over the harbor all day.

Laborites Taunt Home As Parliament Ends Session

LONDON (AP) — Parliament closed today its most turbulent session since the Suez crisis of 1956 with a political tempest blasting round the head of Britain's new prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

As legislators assembled for the closing ceremonies, Labor party leader Harold Wilson furiously taunted the government for being unable to present its new leader in the House of Commons.

"We now have a prime minister who is a member of neither house of Parliament," Wilson said.

Douglas-Home did not attend, although he had been expected to watch the proceedings from a public gallery. Having renounced his earldom yesterday, he no longer has a right to sit in the House of Lords. He cannot take a seat in the Commons until he wins an election.

Wilson attacked the prime minister for postponing the dates of the next parliamentary session until Nov. 12—a delay which gives him time to win a parliamentary seat in a special election in the Kinross and West Perthshire district of Scotland.

"I find this intolerable," the Laborite chief said amid cheers from the packed rows of his supporters.

Commuters See Fight In Traffic

A fight that started in commuter traffic on Highway 101 yesterday landed two men in the Marin County jail on assault and deadly weapons charge.

Frederick Joseph Whalley, 36, of 302 Grand Avenue, Blackpoint, was booked on charges of assault, battery, disturbing the peace and assault with a deadly weapon, with bail set at $772. Dennis Close, 23, of Santa Rosa, was booked on charges of assault and battery on a citizen's arrest, with bail set at $386.

The argument started in the 5 p.m. traffic about San Rafael in the northbound lanes of Highway 101. Each car passed and repassed the other, cutting in front of the other, Novato police said.

When they reached Highway 101 and Grant Avenue, Novato, Whalley's car was in front. Whalley stopped at a stop sign, got out of his car and went back to the Close car, police reported. Close claimed Whalley attacked him with a screwdriver as he sat in his car.

The fight continued in the highway.

Two passengers with Close his brother, Ronald Albert Close and Norman Ray Brannan, both of Santa Rosa, leaped out of the car and joined the fray. As commuters watched the battle from their cars, Officer Walter Weidauer of Novato police arrived to break it up and jail Whalley and Close.

New Storm Due For Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new Pacific storm center forming west of San Francisco is expected to bring rain over Northern California as far south as Monterey and Stockton by late tomorrow.

Snow is probable in the Mount Shasta area down to 3,000 feet and in the Sierra down to 5,000 feet elevation from Highway 50 northward.

The Weather Bureau said a storm front approaching the Crescent City area today was expected to stall while a new low pressure center formed about 500 miles west of San Francisco tonight.

Benson Will Head Mormons In Europe

—SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Ezra Taft Benson, high ranking Mormon Church member and former agricultural secretary who has been criticized for his support of the John Birch Society, today was appointed to head the church's European mission.

The appointment was announced by President David O. McKay, spiritual leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Benson is fourth-ranked senior member of the church's council.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Shipping Costs Delay Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has cleared the way for sale of 1.2 million bushels of corn to Communist Hungary. But the larger issue of wheat sales to the Soviet bloc remains confused.

Cabinet officers huddled yesterday with a Soviet trade delegation and failed to iron out the chief obstacle to completion of the wheat deal—the higher shipping rates charged by American shipowners.

There is a growing feeling here that the problem can be resolved only by a White House decision, not through negotiation.

Sleeping Sickness Breaks Out

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI)—U.S. Army Hospital authorities today clamped a news blackout on what Okinawa health officials termed the worst encephalitis epidemic here since 1956.

At least 21 persons have died here this year of the disease, commonly called "sleeping sickness," one of them an American serviceman who became the Army's first reported fatality on Tuesday.

Brown Says Be Polite To Mrs. Nhu

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today asked Californians to "act like civilized Americans" and be polite to Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu when the first lady of Viet Nam visits California.

"Let the lady have her say," he suggested.

"Madame Nhu may not be an official guest, but she is a guest and she is entitled to a courteous welcome, if not a warm one," Brown said.

Drought Holds Firm Grip On U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—Autumn's severe prolonged drought held a firm grip on broad areas of the nation from the Southern Plains to New England today.

Drought conditions, forest fires and water shortages continued to plague many sections. Losses to crops and property mounted into the millions of dollars.

There appeared no prospect of an immediate, general break in autumn's extended dry and unseasonably warm weather.

Late Comedienne's Kin Killed

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—The mother, daughter and two grandchildren of late comedienne Joan Davis were killed in a predawn fire today, the fire department said.

Fire officials said the blaze broke out in the master bedroom of the home of the comedienne's daughter, Mrs. Beverly Colbert, 29. The bedroom of an adjoining bedroom were destroyed but the rest of the house suffered only smoke damage.

Also killed were Mrs. Nina Mae Davis, 70, and Mrs. Colbert's two children, Guy, 7, and Larry, 4.

The coroner's office listed the cause of the fire as smoking in bed.

Churchill's Daughter Took Own Life

LONDON (AP)—A coroner ruled today that Sir Winston Churchill's eldest daughter, Diana, took her own life through a massive overdose of sleeping pills.

The nude body of 54-year-old Miss Churchill, ex-wife of Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys, was found on the floor of her bathroom early last Sunday.

A pathologist said he had recovered the equivalent of 17 sleeping pills from Miss Churchill's body and found she had drunk one-third of a bottle of whisky.

Thant Says Cause For Hope With U.N.

UNITED STATES (AP)—Secretary-General Thant says that in looking back over 18 years of U.N. history "we find cause for hope."

'MATTER OF TIME' TO TROOP PULLOUT

U.S. Anxious Europe Get Word Combat Forces Reduction Is Thing Of Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question does not seem to be whether the United States will reduce its combat forces in Europe, but how soon it will be done.

The State Department is concerned over a recent speech by a top ranking Pentagon official which predicted, among other things, "evolutionary changes" ahead for units deployed overseas. And it is anxious to get word out that no immediate troop reduction in Europe is planned.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to use the occasion of a visit to West Germany during the next few days to make a formal announcement. It will be aimed at calming alarm in West German government quarters, evidenced by a request for clarification on the speech of Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric in Chicago last week.

In that speech, Gilpatric talked about change in the size and type of forces overseas which "lies ahead" and said the current test airlift of 15,000 troops to Europe demonstrates the capability to deploy military power far faster and longer than ever before.

Gilpatric and others have talked publicly and privately on several occasions about improved strategic deployment capabilities, with implications that economics and other factors were pointing to an eventual cut in forces abroad.

But the Saturday speech was almost on the eve of the dramatic Exercise Big Lift demonstration and test. It was followed closely by an Army announcement that atomic arms for ground forces in Europe and elsewhere overseas would be increased—something that suggested there was a way to maintain the same amount of defensive firepower with fewer men.

Hurricane Lashes At Florida, No Major Damage Predicted

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Ginny lashed Florida's upper east coast with gales today as she crept closer to land.

But the Weather Bureau said Ginny probably wouldn't whip ashore within the next 12 hours. Even if she did, forecaster Gordon Dunn said, "there should be no major damage."

Ginny's peak winds of 75 miles an hour barely qualified her as a hurricane.

Although the Weather Bureau wasn't taking bets on where Ginny would go next, a course 50 to 100 miles offshore parallel to the Florida coast was predicted.

After a brief pause during the night about 100 miles east of Cape Canaveral, Ginny started northwestward at five miles an hour. But the danger wasn't quite over and the Weather Bureau maintained a hurricane watch from Cape Canaveral to Brunswick, Ga.

Gusts up to 40 miles an hour battered the upper Florida coast and gales whirled offshore from central Florida to South Carolina.

With a baffling series of starts, stops and backward sprints, Ginny harassed the Eastern Seaboard from Cape Hatters to Miami.

Ship Captain Tells Of Cuba Plane Attack

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —Capt. Gerhard Krause declared today that "We looked right into their guns" as he described the sneak strafing of his ore ship off the coast of Cuba for 61 minutes early Tuesday.

"We laid on the floor but it wouldn't have helped, really. We were lucky — just plain lucky" not to be wounded, Krause said.

Krause described the attack after his ore ship, the J. Louis, docked here about dawn.

The ship had two-inch bullet holes on the right side and others along the deck.

FIRED IN DARKNESS

Krause emphasized that none of the crewmen saw planes during the attack because of the darkness. He said it was very dark.

But they saw the flashes of the planes' guns as they fired.

"It sounded like there were more than one plane because the attacks came one after the other," the captain said.

Krause said he was on the bridge with the junior third officer and a helmsman when they saw flares lighting up the sky an estimated 20 miles to his starboard right side.

The J. Louis at that time was about 16 miles off the Cuban coast, he said.

"Two flares then were dropped directly overhead," said the captain, as the attack began.

'THEY KNEW'

He was asked if he felt the pilots knew what type of ship they were firing on. He answered, "I think they knew what they were doing; they were shooting up the ship."

Krause said seven persons were on duty when the firing began.

The rest of the men in the 51-man crew were below in their quarters.

He said he ordered his radio operator, Will Urbanus, to contact the U.S. Coast Guard.

Urbanus raised the Coast Guard station in Galveston, Tex., 20 minutes after the attack began and reported the strafing.

Krause said he was told by radio that Navy planes were sent to the area but he added that he never saw them.

Krause reported earlier by radiotelephone that two feet of water accumulated in the cargo hold before the crew won a furious two-hour battle with flames which broke out in the forecastle.

The J. Louis, owned by Universe Tankships, Ind., of New York, is registered under the Liberian flag and chartered by Caribbean Steamship Co., a Reynolds Metals Co. subsidiary.

Yank Nervous Wreck After Term In Red Jail

BERLIN (AP) — American student Robert Mann said today he was physically well treated while jailed for 21 months in Communist East Germany. But, he said, the experience had left him a nervous wreck.

Mann, 20, a Stanford University student from Sepulveda, Calif., told a news conference he was jailed on a charge of "luring away" East German citizens.

When he appeared before reporters in the U.S. Mission in West Berlin he was very pale and obviously nervous. He spoke haltingly and his English was stumbling, as if spoken by a German. He frequently turned to a U.S. official to ask for the translation of a German word into English.

Mann was released by the Red Regime yesterday. He said he stayed last night in a private home in West Berlin.

"I'm glad to be back, but one of the most important things for men now is the process of making a transition," he said. "I am nervous and I still have difficulty speaking English."

Mann was sentenced to 21 months imprisonment after a secret trial in East Berlin July 14, 1962, on charges of trying to help an East German escape to the West. Informed sources said he was accused of trying to supply false identity papers to a young East Berliner. The fate of the German has not been disclosed.

The court counted the six months Mann spent in jail awaiting trial against his sentence.

British College Program Urged

LONDON (AP)—A government-sponsored committee recommends that Britain spend four billion dollars to more than double its university enrollment by 1981.

The committee said Britain lags behind the United States in higher education.

It recommended Britain's universities be increased from 32 to 60 and said this would make room for 560,000 students, as compared with 216,000 at present.

Strong Words, No Conclusion In Tam Unification Argument

By ELLEN BRY

Fifty-seven persons turned out last night in San Anselmo to discuss the effects of school district unification on the taxpayers' pocketbooks and on students' minds in Tamalpais Union High School District.

No conclusion was reached. Most of the audience at Sir Francis Drake High School sat back and listened as a few stood to present strongly worded pros and cons on unification.

The meeting was the first of 11 to be held in the high school district to inform residents of the proposal to make one large district out of the present Tamalpais High School District and 11 elementary school districts within its boundaries. Unification would mean one board of trustees would govern kindergarten through high school.

The second meeting is scheduled at 8 o'clock tonight at Central School in Sausalito.

Opposition last night to the proposed unification was concentrated on alleged "lack of communication" between residents and trustees and the school room, if such a large district were formed, and on the supposed lack of financial advantages to the taxpayers.

Proponents alleged a more uniform curriculum and more equal educational opportunity for students would result, and that the flexibility of having all school plants in one district would mean easier handling of student population growth.

The proposal for unification comes from the augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization, made up of 11 regular members plus representatives of the 12 districts under study.

The committee is required by state law to propose reorganization of county districts. The proposal under discussion now is a tentative one; a final proposal will be brought in by the committee at conclusion of the public meetings to feel out residents' opinions. It then must go to the state board of education, then to the voters of the proposed district, where a simple majority would be needed to put reorganization into effect.

Strongest opposition came from Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas and John Cahill of Kentfield, president of the Citizens' Committee Against Unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District as a whole.

Cahill charged that unification into one large district would mean trustees would be able to give only "cursory attention . . . to setting education policies, curriculum policies. The professional administrators would take over. The superintendents get so busy with all the dollars they're spending that they forget what the children are learning."

He was echoed by Mrs. Frederick, who brought her own tape recorder to the meeting to whir away with the one brought by county school officials.

In an emphatically delivered answer to the opposition, Mrs. J. Thomason Phelps of San Anselmo urged unification as best giving an "equal educational opportunity" to the largest number of students. She urged residents to consider the larger area, not just their own elementary school district.

The size of the district would not dilute trustee control of curriculum, she said. "It is just as easy to set the educational policy for 17,000 pupils as for 100."

Unification would mean the new district would begin with 17,000 to 18,000 students, kindergarten through high school. The district would cover the area now within Tamalpais High boundaries, about 189 square miles, include (at present) about 50 per cent of the students in the county and about 50 per cent of the assessed valuation. Ultimate enrollment might reach 60,000 students.

Unification got a strong boost from Mrs. J. B. Myers of San Anselmo, who said she could see the difference in her children who previously attended school in a unified district in Washington.

"The crying need is to get this thing unified from one to twelve," she said. "I talk to my children about what they're having (in school) and they say it's the same old thing." Coordinated curriculum could stop repetition of courses, she contended.

Mrs. Eugene Crawford of Mill Valley, Mrs. A. E. Larsen of Lagunitas, and Mrs. Joseph Wallace of Ross, members of the county committee, said they favored unification.

If unification of the entire district were approved by voters, the county committee recommends that the new district be governed by seven trustees to run within trusteeship areas but be elected at large.

A general purpose tax rate of $4.01 for the unified district would produce the same revenue as would the maximum tax rate of all the component districts during the year prior to unification.

With the inclusion of state loan repayment and retirement fund repayments and other items, as in all districts, the total rate is estimated at $4.45, said Edwin L. Blackmore, assistant county superintendent of schools, in an explanation after the meeting.

If voters also were to approve leveling of payments of outstanding separate district bonds throughout the new unified district (a separate proposition on the ballot) the rate would go to approximately $4.84, according to Blackmore's figures.

Comparable figures to the $4.84, now paid and including high school and elementary tax retirement, loan repayment and bond redemption are:

Bolinas-Stinson Beach, $3.54; Fairfax, $4.62; Kentfield, $5.17; Lagunitas, $4.62; Larkspur, $4.94; Mill Valley, $4.99; Nicasio, $2.97; Reed, $5.04; Ross, $4.65; San Anselmo, $4.82; Sausalito, $4.59.

Monardo Rips City Manager As Vote Issue

Putting the job of city manager of Mill Valley "up for grabs" in a popularity contest violates the city ordinance, City Councilman George D. Monardo said today.

The councilman spoke against letting the personality of City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants become an issue in next April's election. He said the Mill Valley Citizens Committee has launched an attach which "will destroy the city manager form of government."

Monardo called the committee's activity "totally inconsistent with our city manager ordinance which provides that the city manager will be appointed by the city council solely on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications."

Mill Valley needs leadership, said Monardo. He credited Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks with that leadership.

"Mill Valley is no longer a village; it is a city with all the problems of a city," he declared.

The city's legal and economic problems are no longer small and there is no room for the "good pal" technique in the administration of city affairs, the councilman asserted.

He said he is confident a new city manager "will give full cooperation in order that all efforts in concert will be beneficial to the city."

Lack Of Natural Gas Holds Up Development

Lack of natural gas is holding back development of San Geronimo Valley, members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. agreed at the regular meeting Monday.

Next meeting of the association will be 8 p.m., Nov. 18 at Lagunitas School. The Horseman's Assn. of San Geronimo Valley will present the program.

Marin City Renewal Seen In 18 Months

It is possible that Marin City's urban development area can be completed in about 18 months, a Marin County housing official announced last night at a meeting of the citizens advisory committee on urban development.

Bert Klahn, executive director of both the housing authority and the redevelopment agency of Marin, gave the 18-month estimate at the meeting in the civic center.

Developer of the project in Marin City is James Scheuer. Barrett Construction Co. is the builder. They have agreed to build 200 relocation units and about 400 non-relocation units in Marin City. Construction, however, is behind schedule.

"Of course, the 18 months is just an estimate," Klahn explained. "We'll probably hear more about it on Nov. 4 at a joint meeting with the supervisors."

The Marin County Board of Supervisors has set a conference with the developers and housing officials for 2 p.m. Nov. 4 to discuss the progress of construction.

The citizens advisory committee on urban development, headed by chairman Betty Pierce, also heard reports from officials of the federal urban renewal agency and architect John Wells, who showed slides of Marin City development.

Man Defends Self At Trial For Attack

John B. Castillo took the stand in his own defense today in a jury trail on charges of rape and sexual perversion.

The 43-year-old Castillo claimed the woman who claimed she was raped had actually allowed him to stay overnight in her apartment in Oakland for the two nights before the crime was supposed to have taken place May 25 near Point Reyes.

District Atty. Roger Garety yesterday wound up the prosecution's case by showing slides of the woman taken shortly after May 25, showing bruises he said Castillo inflicted.

The woman, a 50-year-old typist, testified most of yesterday relating a trip through the county and saying she had stopped for sandwiches and a steak barbecue in the western part of the county, one time at Tomales State Park, the other at McClure Beach, and that they had visited Point Reyes Lighthouse.

She said the attack thook place on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Garety also called doctors to testify on the woman's injuries observed after she was admitted into an Oakland hospital.

GOERNDT

Jordan said, though Brown made recommendations to Goerndt, few were carried out.

At one point, Jordan said, Brown suggested that if Goerndt did not show improvement, it would be necessary for him to look for another job. In 1960 and 1962 Brown did not approve salary increases for Goerndt.

Specific reasons listed by Brown, Jordan said, include inadequate and sketchy reports; poor, sloppy dress of officers; lolling around city hall doorways; no special training program; no disciplinary policy; inadequate and ineffective parking program; no firearms training program; inadequate public relations program; detection of alcohol on an officer's breath while on duty; accepting gratuities of free or half-priced meals in various restaurants; not enough air in police car tires; failure to control use of police phones for private purposes.

He said Brown received reports of use of police vehicles for "conducting meetings with female friends of the officers."

Duerr, who lives in San Rafael and is business manager of San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, was asked by Leech, on cross-examination, if he had a "Dear Howard" letter with him. Leech said in that letter Duerr complimented Goerndt on his performance as chief of police. The letter was dated Sept. 23, 1959.

Leech told Jordan he was "putting the entire police department on trial" and because of this "we're going to have to have names." The board ruled that names would be read into the report instead of saying "an officer," as Jordan recommended.

At 10:45 p.m. the No Name, a bar at 757 Bridgeway, sent in two dozen cups of steaming coffee at a five-minute recess.

Six pieces of evidence were submitted as Brown's exhibits, two as Goerndt's.

Pleads Innocent To Petty Theft

Robert Moody Fox, 32, who was arrested by Sausalito police with 13 credit cards but who said he had no home, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a petty theft charge, but guilty to a drunk count.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced Fox to two days in jail for drunkenness, and the theft matter was continued to tomorrow.

Police yesterday said the credit cards had been stolen from Richard Landman of Philadelphia, who was staying at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

Two Jailed On Charge Of Burglary

Two Marin City men were jailed by Mill Valley police last night on charges of conspiracy and burgary after admitting they and two juveniles decided to steal from the Speedy Wash Laundromat at Miller and Evergreen avenues.

Nothing was reported taken from the self service laundry, police said, except some padlocks.

Arrested were Robert Lee Burton, 18, of 33 Cole Drive and Glen Earl Goff, 24, of 165 Drake Avenue. Both said they are unemployed. Two 17-year-old youths, also of Marin City, were placed in juvenile hall on the same charges.

Police said they received an anonymous telephone call at 11:55 p.m. that some one was "tampering with the laundry." Officer Jerry Harman, reserve officers Herbert Aceret and Douglas Provine responded.

They saw a Ford parked next to the laundry doorway. As they approached, someone in the car sounded the car horn twice. Immediately three men ran out of the building.

Harman found padlocks missing, the cover of the coin machine open, and a padlock lying on the floor.

Police later found three padlocks in the men's car which laundry owner Woodley Smith identified as having come from his laundry. An axe, a mallet, iron edges, a tire wrench, and a pry bar were also in the car, police said.

Secretaries' 'Day In Court' Set Wednesday

About 20 legal secretaries will troop through the Marin County Civic Center next Wednesday afternoon during the annual "Day in Court" for all legal secretaries in Marin County.

Purpose of the "Day in Court," now in its eighth year, is to permit legal secretaries a chance to see court sessions and the inner workings of county offices first hand.

Jeanne Olson, chairman for the day, anounced this year the group will meet for lunch at the Civic Center cafeteria at 12:30 p.m., then visit the data processing bureau, county counsel's office, and the county library.

Committee members working with Mrs. Olson are Wanda Willey, Virginia Follis, Jean Martin, and Elsie Caminita. Jacqueline Wrischnik is president of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Assn.

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market closed higher in heavy trading today.

Stocks rose on a wave of bullish corporate news.

Chrysler's new 2-for-1 stock split and a raft of increased profits reported for various companies aided sentiment. Chrysler was swamped with buy orders and trading was halted in the stock prior to the stock-split news when it was up more than 2.

Chrysler was up 9¾ at 99¾ at the close. The stock was not traded for four hours until just before the final bell.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.0 million shares compared with 5.84 million yesterday.

Dirty Getaway For Thief In Coal Chute

MISHAWAKA, Ind. (AP) — A thief who cleaned out the desk drawers of a floor covering shop here got himself pretty dirty in the process.

He slid six feet down an old sidewalk coal chute covered with coal dust to reach the basement of the building. Walking upstairs to the company's office, he ransacked several desks of $50 and let himself out a rear door.

OBITUARIES

Adolph H. May Dies; Rites Held

Funeral services for Adolph H. May, Western Union executive who was a Marin County resident for two years, were held yesterday in Colma.

May died Tuesday in a Kentfield rest home after a long illness. He was 87.

He retired in 1947 as regional general manager of Western Union Telegraph Co. in San Francisco. As a telegraph employee for 56 years, he was present at many historic events in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

May was born in Missouri. He joined Western Union as a messenger in 1891 at Hastings, Neb. He later served as a telegrapher at Grand Island, Neb., and at Cripple Creek, Colo., during that town's mining boom.

He became superintendent of the San Francisco office one year after the 1906 earthquake and fire. As district superintendent, he was in charge of communications for the 1910 Reno, Nev., heavyweight championship prizefight between Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries. He directed the telegraph service from Jackson in August, 1922, when 47 men were trapped nearly a mile below the surface in the Argonaut Mine.

May was a member of the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco and of Mount Moriah Masonic Lodge of Salt Lake City.

He leaves a son, Robert J. May; a daughter, Clarice Berelson, and a brother, Albert L. May, all of San Francisco. He also leaves a sister, Edith Cohn of Oakland, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Services were held at Portals of Eternity Mausoleum, Colma.

W. E. McDONALD

William Earl McDonald, 66, of 390 Via Casitas, Greenbrae, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

McDonald, a native of Oakland, was a resident of Marin County for one year. He was a retired division manager of Shell Oil Co. in San Francisco.

He was a member of Fellowship Lodge 480, Free and Accepted Masons, the First Congregational Church of Oakland, and the Athenian Nile Club.

McDonald is survived by his wife, Gladys; a daughter, Mrs. Jean Van Fleet, and one grandchild.

Private family funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Albert Brown Mortuary in Oakland at 3:30 p.m.

F. H. ABBOTT JR.

Private funeral services for Frank H. Abbott Jr., 78, father of Frank H. Abbott III of Kentfield, were held yesterday in San Francisco.

Abbott died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. He was founder and president of Abbott Corp., a San Francisco investment firm. He also founded Sunset-McKee Business Forms and was a past president of the National Business Forms Institute, a director of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, a member of the Bohemian Club, a member of Oakland Masonic Lodge 188, Oakland Consistory of Scottish Rite, and Islam Temple of the Shrine.

He was a native of San Francisco.

Besides his son, he leaves his wife, Viola; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph E. Kingston and Mrs. John E. Morgan, and a brother, Elbert, all of San Francisco.

Burial was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

DORA MEHERIN

Funeral services for Dora M. Meherin, 68, of Ross were held yesterday in San Anselmo.

Cigarette Ad At U.C. Backfires

BERKELEY (AP)—Some Negro students at the University of California are incensed over what was meant as a satirical advertisement in the school's humor magazine, the Pelican.

The ad showed a picture of a Negro lighting a filter tip cigarette, with the caption: "Only pure white touches your lips." It ran as a full page in the October issue.

Yesterday, four Negro students complained to school authorities. They told Vice Chancellor Alex Sheriffs the ad had "racist overtones."

Pelican Editor Dexter Waugh, a senior journalism major, and seven staff members met the Negroes in Sheriffs' office. Waugh explained:

"We tried in good faith to satirize the concept of pure white as geing the greatest good—of white being pure and black being evil. There was no malice—this is being misinterpreted."

The student senate called a special meeting for today to discuss the matter.

Akin Adupifa, 21, a senior from Nigeria who posed for the ad, commented, "I didn't find anything wrong with it."

Daylight Burglary Nets Safe, Gems

A daylight burglary which netted at least $900 in jewelry and clothing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Albert Philes Sr. at 8 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, was being investigated by Larkspur police today.

The loot included a 300-pound safe which police trailed from marks in the ground as having been lugged out of a bedroom, over a backyard patio, around a swimming pool and over a back fence running along Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

The burglary took place while Philes and his wife were away between 8 a.m. and 6:20 p.m. Tuesday, said Police Chief Howard Clark.

"I wish anyone who witnessed the action of the safe being dumped over that fence would notify our department, said Clark. "It would have had to take two men to handle a thing that heavy."

The fence is near Bon Air Road and Eliseo Drive and across the street from a service station.

The burglary was reported by a neighbor who noticed doors of the Philes home were open. Police arrived moments after Mrs. Philes returned home.

The place had been ransacked. One pillow slip had been removed from a bed as though to carry some of the loot, which included two wool cardigan sweaters.

Principal loss was the safe and contents, taken from a bedroom closet. The safe is 30-by 14 -by 30 inches and painted metallic gold.

A partial list of the items missing was given by Philes, an auto salesman, who believed the loss would be revised upward after a more thorough search of the home.

Philes said the safe contained at least these things: One diamond-inset platinum tie tack, a gold tie tack with a $2.50 goldpiece inset, cufflinks made of $2.50 goldpieces, a women's bracelet made of numerous $2.50, $5 and $10 goldpieces and one $20 goldpiece. The goldpieces were all U.S. coins.

Entry was through a bathroom window from which six pieces of glass, 6-by-13 and one-half inches, had been removed.

Resuscitator Call Prank 'Dangerous'

A false resuscitator call sent Terra Linda firemen racing to a home on Montecillo Road about 8 o'clock last night.

"This is the second time in about three months that this has happened," said fire prevention officer Edward R. Smith. "This is a very dangerous prank to pull, because every time we roll we use a red light and siren, and someone could be hurt."

Smith said a woman's voice on the telephone said, "A resuscitator is needed right away at 790 Montecillo Road." Firemen raced over, only to find that the residents there knew nothing about it. The identity of the prankster has not been learned.

Bus For Stamps

Marin Still Tops In United Crusade Drive

Marin still tops all counties in the United Bay Area Crusade with 55 per cent of its $155,344 goal achieved, Charles J. Francis, campaign chairman, announced today. He reported the latest total at $85,092.

Second highest in the Bay Area is San Francisco County with $916,566 collected for 39.2 per cent of quota. Other standings are Alameda County, 37.4 per cent; San Mateo County, 28.8 per cent, and Contra Costa County, 14.9 per cent.

Still leading all Marin units is the public employees division, which was the first to go over quota and now stands at 109 per cent of goal with $6,521 reported.

Three divisions are over the half-way point and is exactly the 50 per cent mark.

The four report luncheon, originally set for Monday, will be held at noon next Wednesday at Boy Scout Hall, in San Rafael.

The business division is still second in campaign standings. A total of $10,847 has been donated in this division for 72 per cent of quota.

Other divisions over the half-way mark are special gifts, with $17,810, or 69 per cent of quota, and commerce and industry with $16,199, or 54 per cent. The professional division is exactly at 50 per cent of quota with $9,445.

In the residential division, the Marinwood-Lucas Valley area was the first to exceed its quota, it was announced. A total of $646 was reported in this area, where a quota of $540 had been assigned. Mrs. Wellington Glover is Marinwood-Lucas Valley chairman.

The residential division total announced today was $19,410, or 42 per cent of quota.

$3-Million Shop Center Planned

HANFORD (UPI) — Property for a proposed three-million-dollar shopping center in West Hanford was purcased by J. Cyril Johnson, a Menlo Park developer, it was announced yesterday.

Ted Gamby and Mrs. Bernard Moates, who handled the transaction said Johnson was buying the 21-acre site from Louis Robinson and Mrs. Harriett Hansen for "in the neighborhood of $300,000." The sale was contingent upon the property receiving a commercial rezoning.

Robinson last week filed plans for the project and a public hearing was set for Nov. 6 by the planning commission.

Johnson was developer of the San Antonio Shopping Center in Mountain View.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Forest Service has rejected an application to establish a ski resort in the San Gorgonio wild area of Southern California.

New CHEVELLE!
by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe (foreground) with Malibu Super Sport Convertible

Only this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II.

The Chevelle is a highly polished car on a trim 115-inch wheelbase. With its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. All of which makes it a sweet-handling, easy-to-maneuver automobile.

But it's roomy and relaxing inside, with the kind of ride you'd expect in a bigger car. And it's styled with a lively grace and refinements (curved side windows and pillars, for example) that make its modest price all the more remarkable.

A neat trick? We agree. But not so difficult really when you have the skills of seasoned Body by Fisher craftsmen to draw upon.

And the advantage of Full Coil suspension developed by the same engineering talent that came up with the Jet-smooth Chevrolet's ride.

And that irrepressible Chevrolet spirit in a choice of four engines—V8 or 6—including optional-at-extra-cost versions all the way up to 220 hp.

Small wonder this one turned out the way it did.

Did we say one? Actually there are 11 models—wagons, sedans, sport coupes, convertibles—in three series. Even some cars that have been around for a time don't give you a choice like that.

Sound like something you ought to check into further? Consider this your invitation for a real hood-raising, door-slamming, seat-bouncing, wheel-turning time of it at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Rafferty, Braden Say Battle For 'Basic Education' Won

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two of California's top education officials have agreed that the battle for what they term "basic education" has been won, and outlined major problems they feel must be solved in the next few years.

Thomas W. Braden, president of the State Board of Education, told the Sacramento Press Club last night that the major problems are ending de-facto school segregation, unifying school districts to equalize tax payments, improving the curriculum and eliminating waste to give bond issues and tax over-rides better chance of passage.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, in an address to the same group listed high school drop-outs, de-facto segregation and financing the increasing cost of education as major problems.

Rafferty also said some institutions may be trying to circumvent the increased emphasis on subject matter in new teacher training regulations approved by the board last summer.

He criticized what he called a trend for the state to exert more control over local districts while withdrawing its financial support at about the rate of 1 per cent a year.

The two men differed in their definitions of education. Braden defined it "teaching facts" to enable youngsters to make the difficult decisions that will face them.

Rafferty said the purpose of education is to "seek after truth, not to question its existence."

"The schools exist to bear witness to the good, the beautiful and the true," he said, "and to inculcate these into the minds of our youth."

Braden said he didn't agree with Rafferty's worry that the state is taking over local control.

"The board sets minimum standards," he said, "to see that all districts do their fair share. The local power is to do more — and that's a big power."

Braden also said the problems facing the schools "have nothing to do with communism, Americanism, sight reading, progressiveism, politics, John Dewey or dirty books.

"I want to make it perfectly clear," he said, "that I think Dr. Rafferty's goals in basic education are the same as those of the board, the governor, the legislature and me. I want to make it perfectly clear I think he is working toward those goals."

He said he will continue to speak out whenever he disagrees with Rafferty on an educational issue.

"The problems of education cannot be solved in a closet," he said.

Folsom Inmates Still On Strike

FOLSOM (AP) — All but a few prisoners again refused to report for work at Folsom State Prison today, ignoring pleas by a convict-committee to end a strike which started Monday.

"We don't seem to be much better off than we were," said Business Manager Arthur Oliver who had hoped the men would go back on the job after breakfast. He said only six to 12 of the more than 2,000 prisoners responded.

A convict committee, in a tape recording played on the prison intercom last night, urged a return to work.

Truman Visits 'Alma Mater,' Falls On Bush

GRINNELL, Iowa (UPI)—Former President Harry Truman, in his second day as Grinnel College's "politician-in residence," slipped off a curb and toppled into a clumb of shrubbery today.

Truman slipped as he stepped out of the college guest house to meet a crowd of 50 persons, including some preschool and grade school youngsters.

Truman, 79, was unhurt and recovered quickly. As his aides brushed off the dust he started signing autographs for the children.

Truman, who jokingly calls Grinnell his "alma mater," is on a two-day visit of chatting with young folks and speechmaking.

Truman then moved down the street. At one point he came to a stop light and refused to permit police officers to halt traffic to let him cross.

"No, we do it just like anyone else, we'll wait for the light," Truman said.

Seven per cent of the adult-sized mattresses sold are extra long or extra wide.

DISCRETION IS BETTER PART, ETC.

Larry Capuen, 21, of Newport Beach, who had visions of paddling 568 miles down the coast from San Francisco to his hometown, gave up last night. "I hate to quit," the tanned lifeguard said, "but I'd be crazy not to." Top picture shows him as he was ready to go yesterday; in center he registers protest as being washed back to shore, and at bottom he successfully got underway—only to be washed ashore again at Pacifica, eight miles away. "I'll try again next summer," he declared. (AP Wirephotos)

State Senate Group Urges Lobby Controls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A State Senate committee preparing to investigate lobbyists already is certain that more rigid controls are needed over activities of the so-called "third house."

The Senate Interim Committee on Legislative Representation also decided yesterday that reports of call girl activities at the 1963 legislature did not warrant investigation.

Chairman Alvin Weingand, (D-Santa Barbara), called the furor "a groundless scandal. There is simply no instance of any wrong doing," he said the committee felt after studying an attorney general's report on the matter.

But the committee's closed session did agree it should sponsor legislation in 1965 requiring more detailed reports of expenditures by lobbyists and their employers.

"There has not been a full study of the relationship of lobbyists to the legislature in recent years," Weingand said. He set a starting date of sometime in December for his group's probe.

Novato Station Due Alarm Room

The radio room at Novato Fire Station No. 1 will be converted into an alarm room, at a cost estimated at $5,000, for use when the new fire alarm system is completed, the Novato Fire District board decided last night.

Bids were called by the board to be opened Nov. 27.

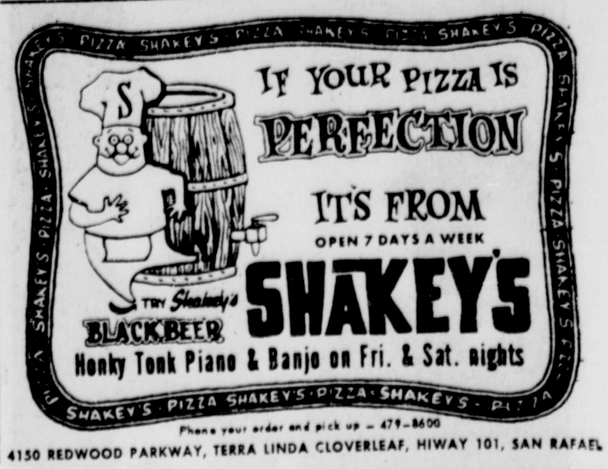

Gamewell Corp. is installing a $52,494 alarm system in the district.

The discovery was made by police and army units on a hill in the small town of Hoyo Frio de Cevics. The cache included weapons, munitions, fatigue garb and campaign boots, police said.

The arms were of Dominican and Japanese manufacture, it was reported.

Let The People Decide On Unified Districts

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization this week is beginning public hearings on a proposal to unify Tamalpais High School District with all the 11 elementary school districts within its boundaries.

What is proposed is to make a single school district of what is now the Tam High District. One board of trustees and one administration would be in charge of all schools from kindergarten through 12th grade in that area. There would be one budget, one tax rate.

Plenty of people have objections to this plan. Plenty of others are for it. At last they are going to have a chance to be heard in public hearings; and they may get a chance to vote on it.

This would seem to be about 10 years late. County committees on school district organization were established throughout California in 1953, and charged to come up with plans for unifying school districts. Unification along existing high school district lines, being the simplest plan, would—one might expect—be presented almost immediately. It wasn't. But it may be at last.

For the northeast part of the county, the committee is considering something different: Two districts, on lines proposed by the consultant firm of Booz-Allen and Hamilton after a study.

This calls for splitting the San Rafael High School District to make one unified district of what are now San Rafael and Dixie Elementary School Districts, and another of the present Novato Unified District plus San Jose Elementary School District.

School boards in all the districts involved in this except Novato—the only unified district now existing in Marin—are finding a lot of things to object about in the Booz-Allen and Hamilton report. They don't, it appears, want the citizens to have their say at public hearings and decide the issue at the polls.

We think the school boards are a little outside their jurisdiction here. We have a feeling the people know pretty well what they want and would like the chance to vote on it—without any attempt by school board members to influence the outcome.

It's always hard to give up an empire, even an all-work-and-no-pay empire. But the multiplicity of overlapping school districts in California has no logical reason for existence. Something must be done about it.

In 10 years, the county committees haven't been able to do much. The school boards haven't helped. We think it's time—well past time, in fact—to put some proposals to the people and let them decide by their votes.

Maybe they're ahead of their school boards. Maybe they're ahead of the county committee. There's one way to find out.

Time To Batten Down The Hatches

As the early rains and winds of winter lash Marin, we are warned that porch and patio living are about over for the year.

Reluctantly, we must take the furniture in and batten down the hatches for the bigger storms to come.

A sad and symbolic farewell to summer's outdoor pleasures.

IS U.S.S.R. SALE LEGAL?

Republicans Split In Views Of Soviet Wheat Deal

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — Is the "wheat deal" with Russia legal?

Some Republican leaders are charging that it violates the spirit, and perhaps the letter, of the law, and they want to make an election issue of it.

But not all Republicans. In fact, it now appears likely that if trade with the Soviet Bloc is made an issue, Republicans would find themselves deeply split.

Farm belt spokesmen and business groups have been calling for increased East-West trade.

THE LAW in question is a "policy" statement made by Congress in 1961 that subsidized farm goods, which sell for a higher price in the United States than on the world market, should not be sold to "unfriendly" nations at the lower, world price.

These are the terms on which the Soviets are buying the wheat. Otherwise, they might buy it elsewhere at the world price.

The policy statement came about in the following way:

Before 1961 the government had allowed sales of most foods to the Soviet Union on the theory that food is strictly a consumer item and would not contribute to the U.S.S.R.'s national defense.

HOWEVER, most foods which enjoyed export subsidies—i.e., for which the U. S. government paid the exporter the difference between the domestic and world prices—were not allowed to go to the Soviet bloc.

Under PL 480, the law under which government-supported surplus agricultural products are sold abroad for local currency, agricultural goods so sold may go only to "friendly" foreign nations. The law defines a "friendly country" as any but (1) the U.S.S.R. or (2) any area "dominated or controlled . . . by the . . . world Communist movement."

Poland and Yugoslavia were the only Eastern European nations permitted by the executive branch to receive PL 480 food, under both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations, on the grounds that they were not "dominated" by Russia. The PL 480 law did not restrict regular commercial sales for hard cash or short-term credits.

TO UNLOAD some of the surplus foods that were piling up in government storage bins, the Commerce Department, which administers trade licenses, announced June 22, 1961 that it would ease restrictions against exports of subsidized agricultural products. It planned to sell surplus subsidized foods to other areas of the Soviet bloc for dollars or for currency convertible to dollars.

Before President Kennedy approved the wheat sale, he asked the Justice Department to draw up a memorandum on its legality.

In the memorandum, the attorney general and his advisors took the position that the Latta amendment was simply a policy declaration intended to be given consideration by the executive, but not binding upon it.

BUT House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) charged that the wheat sale violates the Latta amendment. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon called it a "major foreign policy mistake."

The following day the Republicans on the House Agriculture Committee in a joint statement also said the Latta Amendment had been violated.

They added that "trading with the enemy is morally wrong" and that "the vast majority of American farmers, like the vast majority of all Americans, are unwilling to sell out a high moral principle, even for solid gold."

Other Republicans, however, aren't so sure.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Student Exchange Fund Growing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Oct. 1 fund drive of the International Student Exchange of Terra Linda High School, in which approximately 145 Terra Linda students collected money in areas from San Rafael to Novato, netted $1,856.11. Money is still coming in and our goal of $2,000 is in sight. This terrific success would not have been possible without the cooperation we received from your paper.

On behalf of the committee, I would like to thank you, and all the wonderful people of the community who gave so generously, for making it possible for us to continue our American Field Service and Experiment in International Living programs.

We recognize the interest of the Independent-Journal in the youth of Marin and we deeply appreciate the excellent coverage given to all youth activities.

Loggers Deserved That Brickbat

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was very disappointing to see that in the current logging activities in the Point Reyes Park area, you chose to aim your Brickbat at the federal government.

It seems apparent that the lumber company, as have other opportunists at Point Reyes, is putting its own self-interest and desire to make a quick profit far over the public interest. They are obviously cutting lumber at this time to force the government to meet their price with our money, or lose irreplaceable natural park assets.

If they acquired these timber rights within the last three years, their intentions were obvious since the designation of that area for a National Park has been obvious for at least that time. If, however, they acquired these rights several years ago as they claim, their intentions are equally or even more obvious as they now suddenly decide to exercise their cutting rights, and after this long wait, are in such a hurry that they cannot wait for negotiations but must even cut on weekends.

It is very upsetting to see individuals and businesses profiteering not only for their selfish purposes but at the expense of the public's interest and money. I for one want to express my indignation toward the loggers instead of throwing brickbats at the government which has other lately interested land-grabbers to deal with also.

Uganda Student Is Honored

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As the American parents of Miss Margaret Kazibwe, Drake High School's American Field Service Exchange Student from Uganda, East Africa, we should like to give public thanks to the AFS Committee under the guidance of Mrs. Brooks Pringle and the Drake Diplomats, Mrs. Adina Robinson, faculty adviser, for the truly outstanding program honoring Margaret which they sponsored, and which was held before an overflow crowd at the Drake Little Theater.

The remarkable array of talent which the sponsors assembled from throughout the Bay Area resulted in a show which was at the same time entertaining, stimulating and meaningful. The vigor and spontaneity of audience response to each succeeding number was clear evidence of the success of their efforts.

Margaret has received many kindnesses from the residents and students of Marin County during her first ten weeks here. Last night's program surpassed them all in its warms and genuineness.

Through such person-to-person contact grows the understanding which, in the end, is the purpose of the exchange student program.

Why Federal Support On Price-Fixing?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have written to Senator Kuchel and President Kennedy of reports that there's little opposition to S 774. Why not? I understand that its purpose is to fix prices of nationally advertised goods and make it a federal offense for anyone, anywhere, to sell them for less than the price the manufacturer has set.

I believe Kuchel and Kennedy have gone on record as favoring the bill. Why? I hope they have since decided to oppose it as a conservative representative of a system based on free competition as the most practical means to deliver the best for the least to the most.

If the manufacturer controls the prices, who's going to control the manufacturer? If he seeks to set a price which will ensure a fair profit, who's to ensure that he won't consistently set it high for safety and pocket any excess returns with merely a regret for the consumer who might otherwise have benefitted from some efficient or effective retailer's large volume, clearance sale, etc.?

Why is this bill called "quality stabilization"? That seems to be a deliberately misleading title. It arouses suspicion as to the motives of those who are promoting it. Do they really want to serve the public interest better?

Similar laws, at the state level, have been discarded in many cases. What's the argument for this one that makes it worthy of federal support?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

There's been a lot of grumbling about the time it takes these days for a game of big-league baseball to be played, what with pitchers posing as statues for minutes at a time, adjusting their caps, pants, belts, socks, and what have you, and managers calling conferences at every turn of a television camera. The president of one of the leagues sent a secret memo to valued officials asking for suggestions as to how play might be speeded up. The likeliest suggestion came from one cynic on the Journal: "Play only eight innings instead of nine."

A jet was about to take off for Seattle from Idlewild when a man rushed up to the gate attendant and demanded, "Will there be time for me to get on that jet and kiss my wife goodbye?" The attendant answered gravely, "That depends, sir, on how long you've been married."

Sacramento Will Spend A Bit Finding Out How To Save

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Better than a quarter of a million dollars is scheduled to be spent during the next couple of years by the assembly and the senate for studies which proponents hope will lead to "tax reforms" in California.

The taxation system in this state, leading senators and assemblymen hold, is archaic in nature, and demands what may amount to a complete revision.

This system, with the sales tax the primary source of income for the state's general fund, was originated some 30 years ago.

LITTLE CHANGE has been effected except for the addition of a few new taxes, and increases in the levels of the income tax, the sales tax, and a series of other taxes imposed on the people to secure the funds necessary to finance the state's operations.

The senate and assembly will make separate studies of the tax problem, rather than combine the effort in a single study, which might be somewhat less expensive. However, different philosophies concerning taxation prevail in the two houses, so a double study was inevitable when the "reform" study was imposed.

Tax studies of one kind or another have been made almost biennially since the current system was effectuated, back in the 1930's. These have produced some profound verbiage, but have resulted in very little which could be interpreted as benefitting the people of California who pay the bills for operation of an enterprise which costs more that three billion dollars a year.

IT IS reasonably well conceded that study of the tax program could produce information which might, if put to work, result not in any reduction of taxes, but in cutting down the amounts which may be needed in the future. In other words, increases in taxes might be avoided.

On the other hand, if the pattern of state spending followed in the past is continued, and there appears to be no indication that it will be any different in the future, tax increases are inevitable.

The two committees may possible get into the question of just how far government can go in taxing the people of the state. Eventually, government will reach a point beyond the ability of the people to pay.

SOME ECONOMISTS think this point is imminent at the present time, considering that the taxpayer is responsible for federal taxes, state taxes, city taxes, and special district taxes, not to mention a myriad of others.

When this point of no return is reached, only disaster with a complete breakdown in government can result.

The legislature has appropriated more than a quarter of a million to study "tax reforms," but it has appropriated nothing to determine how the state can put on the brakes in its spending program.

Air Arm Of CIA Is Flying Over Cuba Once More

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The covert "air arm" of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency is again flying high, wide, and out of the range of Soviet ground-to-air missiles —over Cuba.

Undisputed command of all U. S. air surveillance of Cuba and along the borders of the Soviet Union has been turned over to CIA Director John McCone by the White House.

No hint of this significant development has been given the public or Congress by officials of the Kennedy administration despite its jolting implications on U. S. security.

The vital Cuban surveillance mission, shared with the Air Force and Navy since last October's missile crisis, is now being exclusively carried out by the CIA's "second-rate airforce," as it is labeled by top Air Force generals.

THIS PHANTOM CIA force, which is far from adequate to do the job, includes less than two dozen high-flying U-2 reconnaissance planes and about 12 "flying platforms," specially equipped long-range surveillance planes.

At present, CIA pilots are limited to less than a dozen high-level U-2 reconnaissance flights a month, with none passing directly over Cuba. Instead, the U-2s follow the Cuban coastline, staying over international waters and out of range of more than 600 SA-2 missiles that ring the island.

All low-level reconnaissance flights conducted over Cuba by Navy and Air Force pilots during the missile crisis were halted several months ago on direct orders from the White House, despite protests by the two services that the flights were necessary to check on Soviet missiles in Cuba.

HISTORY REPEATS — As before the Cuban missile crisis, all CIA air missions in the Caribbean area or near the Soviet Union must receive advance approval by President Kennedy. This air-tight control procedure was adopted to avoid CIA operations that might cause incidents between Castro and U. S. forces.

Despite vigorous denials by State and Defense Department officials, there have been periods as long as two weeks during which no reconnaissance flights were made in the vicinity of Cuba.

One of these self-imposed reconnaissance blackouts was put into effect during the nuclear test ban negotiations in Moscow. During a two-week period late in July and early August, all flights were stopped by White House orders.

Hurricane Flora, the storm that hammered Cuba for five days this month, also grounded CIA planes more than a week. While Navy planes flying off the carrier Lake Champlain virtually mapped all of Haiti to obtain a complete picture of the storm damage on that island, they were banned from taking pictures of Cuba's extensive storm damage.

CUBAN FLASHES — Russian submarine pens are being constructed at Bahai de Nipe. Powerful fortifications also are being built there, particularly for anti-aircrafts guns. . . .

The number of so-called "technicians" from Red China is steadily increasing in Cuba. Intelligence now estimates they run into the thousands, and are of various categories. They are located in compounds and are rarely seen in public, unlike the Russians and Czechoslovaks who travel about freely. . . .

CRYSTAL BALL — President Kennedy is scoring a partial victory on the foreign aid authorization bill in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The committee, which has been considering the measure for several months, will restore about half of the one billion dollar cut by the House when it voted 3.5 billion dollars—as against the 4.5 billion dollars demanded by the president. The Senate committee will approve around four billion dollars.

Public Bodies 'Settle' Issues Which Then Have 8 More Lives

"THE PRESS is a blind old tom cat, yowling on a treadmill," wrote Ben Hecht in "Eric Dorn," his historic first novel.

I think of a treadmill when I cover some public entities. Such as the Larkspur City Council.

A reporter watches the council apparently settle an issue only to see it bob forth with a beard months later.

Such as "City Manager Administrative Functions," a topic suggested for an adjourned meeting. The topic is one of 12 blockbusters listed in a report of Sept. 4 by Robert J. Smith and James J. Lienkaemper.

I AM TOLD Smith urged this topic. Certainly the report, a welter of "disposition thereof," "hereinafter described," "contained thereunder as hereinafter set forth," sounds like Smith, an attorney.

An inquiry into City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper's functions was pushed months ago by Smith and Councilman Lesly A. Daveler, now mayor. Piper has been demonstrating the functions nearly seven years. He turned in a report on the functions in December. Now the issue is exhumed!

One provision of the bewildering report was rejected as it came up last week: For the council to decide at each adjournment what its next agenda would be; followed by a painful ritual by Piper in adding items.

COUNCILMAN Neil R. Brixon asked that this be confined to adjourned meetings, "Leave the monthly agenda (regular meetings) to Mr. Piper," adding, "Try it out on the work sessions before disrupting the present system."

Daveler agreed.

No doubt it is better this clash between popularity winners (councilmen) and a pro (Piper) is seen and heard openly than long hidden like the thing in Mill Valley.

But endless seminars on how the city works are depressing as they tied up the staff that does the work.

BEST LINE last week was Lienkaemper's. Subject: About 15 feet of unpaved sidewalk on Magnolia Avenue near Archer's Service Station. Lienkaemper: "Let's put a rug in there."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Wall Street Folk Singer Has Plans To Make A Killing

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An organization called the Fire and Police Research Assn. of Los Angeles recently demanded a congressional investigation of folk music.

And Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N. Y.), is pretty burned up about it.

Keating, whose constituency embraces some of the major hotbeds of American folk singing, prepared a speech taking issue with the association's charge that "hootenannies" are having a subversive influence on the youth of the country.

DEFENDING "the right of everyone to sing out as well as speak out whenever the spirit moves him," the senator said that folk music by its nature is "grounded in movements of political, economic and social unrest."

Such music originated among sharecroppers, miners, factory workers, cowboys, hillbillies and the like, he noted.

They could hardly be expected to sing the praises of "such symbols of orthodoxy as the gold standard, the oil depletion allowance, and the standing rules of the United States Senate," he said.

NOW I have no desire to get involved in a feud between a senator and a group of fire and police researchers, but it seems to me that Keating has indirectly pointed out a tremendous new potential in the folk singing field.

As soon as I can brush up on my guitar strumming, I plan to go on the road with an act billed as "The Wall Street Folk Singer." Wall Street has a veritable gold mine of folk lore that, musically speaking, is virtually untapped.

For example, "The Crash of '29" would make a dandy title for a folk song, being almost as dramatically disastrous as the sinking of the Titanic.

JUST PICTURE a minnesinger clad in a vest covered with dollar signs ($). In the key of C he sings:

"Investors and their cousins

"Leaped from windows by the dozens.

"It was sad when the stock market went down."

Or how about a folk song entitled "Blue Ribbons." The lyrics tell of a man who hears his child praying for some blue ribbon stocks.

He tries to buy some, but he can't get in touch with his broker.

Then he returns and finds 500 shares of AT&T on the child's bed.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Tamalpais Union High School adopted a $3 fee schedule for 12-week adult education classes in hopes this would make them self-supporting within two years.

A Hamiltton Air Force Base sergeant was hospitalized with eye injuries and a grass fire covered 70 acres after accidental explosion of small arms ammunition which was being destroyed in a pit northwest of the base.

County Probation Officer Walter Busher warned that efficiency of his department was being impaired by understaffing, overwork and an inadequate pay scale.

20 YEARS AGO

Roberts Dairy Farms of San Rafael bought the first unit of the 11,000-acre Murphy Drakes Bay dairy ranch for an estimated $100,000. The purchase comprised 2,000 acres fronting on Drakes Bay on the southern part of the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Fire which destroyed eight automobiles and a tow truck also totally consumed the "Efficient Garage" in Mill Valley.

Schools of Marin County were prepared for issuance of War Ration Book Four, according to Mrs. Mabel Jones, head of the San Rafael War Price and Ration Board.

READY, ACTION — Jeff Morse, 9-year-old son of Mel Morse, executive director of the Marin County Humane Society, and Bernard Weller, state humane officer (seated atop fence) prepare to act in a film being produced for the National Humane Society. The setting is Manuel Gonsalves' Big Rock ranch in Lucas Valley and the action will show Weller inspecting cows while Jeff looks on. Script writer Peggy Hartley (right) holds up the board identifying the scene while director Charles Davis (back to camera) instructs the cameraman.

ROLE IN COMMUNITY

Marin Humane Society Is Star In Film To Be Shown Nationally

Story and photo
By FRANK FARRARA

The "star" of a short film now in production is the Marin County Humane Society, its operations and its role in the community.

Shooting of the film began last Friday and wound up yesterday.

A crew from Burt Martin and Associates, Hollywood film producers, has been poking its camera into every aspect of Humane Society activity.

"They're filming community animal activity too," said Mel Morse, executive director of the society. "They got some shots of a dog training club and Brownies visiting headquarters."

In true Hollywood fashion, society officers had to stage a re-take of a deer rescue. "We rescued it Monday, turned it loose and then had to do it over again for the film," Morse said.

There are no professional actors in the film, just the society's staff and "the people," he said. Several scenes have been shot at Society headquarters at 402 Third Street, San Rafael.

Tuesday the crew filmed Bernard Weller, state humane officer, and 9-year-old Jeff Morse, son of the society's director, in a staged inspection of cows at Manuel Gonsalves' Big Rock Ranch along Lucas Valley Road.

Final scenes were filming of a cat rescue and a step-by-step account of a humane society officer investigating a violation.

The crew shot its greatest variety of animals — rabbits, pigs, sheep, goats and a Shetland Pony Sunday with a group of children in Novato.

Activities of the Marin County Humane Society were chosen for the film after they "had been scouted," Morse said. "We have some activities that other societies don't have."

The film, sponsored by the National Humane Society, will be released nationally, Morse said.

Producer Burt Martin said the film is designed to show that "better humane societies make better communities." It will run 22 minutes and is expected to be ready for release in about six weeks, he said.

The film will be accompanied by narration and "some direct sound," Martin said.

Visiting the crew in action Tuesday was Fred Myers of Washington, D.C., executive director of the Humane Society of the United States.

The Allen Press of 10 Ridgecrest Road, Kentfield, is printing by hand press an edition limited to 150 copies of Lord Byron's "A Venetian Story."

The deluxe folio contains 35 large, full-page illustrations from rare copper plate engravings, selected by Eleanor M. Garvey and Phil Hofer of Harvard University, who also did the introduction.

"A Venetian Story" was written by Lord Byron in 1817 during his stay in Venice. The narrative poem is based on a true anecdote and was first published in 1818.

The illustrations are reproductions of engravings chosen from three rare volumes collected by Hofer. A set of three duplicates, suitable for framing, has been included in the book at the end of the text.

Lewis and Dorothy Allen have printed the edition in two colors, Cochin typefaces, on all-rag mould-made Rives paper from France. The Allens printed on dampened paper, using their Acorn-Smith handpress.

Pages are 13 by 19 inches, unsewn in the French manner. The portfolio is enclosed in a hinged box covered in cloth and lined in suede imported from Paris.

It is the 27th limited edition to be printed by the Allens.

Three-quarters of the 700,000 persons in Basutoland live crowded on the boulder-strewn, deeply eroded lowlands to raise meager crops of corn, wheat and vegetables. A major conservation program has been underway since 1936.

Doctor-Candidates All Against 'Oath'

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The first candidates' night in Marin Medical Society history last night produced unanimity among the doctor-candidates on one thing: The "loyalty oath" required of California Medical Assn. delegates should be abolished.

The 14 candidates for medical society offices (the field had been reduced from 21 by withdrawals and ineligibility) split almost down the middle, however, on how to go about it.

They came near unanimity in preferring the existing Kerr-Mills Act over Medicare as a means of government medical assistance to the aged. But two preferred Medicare, and two others declared themselves against both.

They were 10 to 4 against putting doctors under social security, but one of the 10 said he would favor it if it were voluntary but not compulsory.

The candidates' night was called by the nominations committee after a slate of six who pledged they would not sign the loyalty oath was nominated against the committee's slate. All six of them are still in the race.

Nearly a third of the society's 226 active members were present for the history-making forum at Marin General Hospital. Ballots were in the mail today which will give all 226 the opportunity to decide among these remaining nominees:

For president-elect (to become president in 1965): Drs. Ira Degenhardt and J. Lyman Hurlbut.

For secretary-treasurer: Drs. Margaret S. Filante and John McGee.

For directors (two to be elected): Drs. Robert J. Alderson and Richard S. Hahn. (This was a five-way race until the withdrawals).

For delegates to the California Medical Assn. convention (three to be elected): Drs. Sam Hanzel, Duval B. Jaros, Robert L. Mills, Joseph A. Moore, M. Alden Van Pelt, and Robert C. West.

For alternate delegates (two to be elected): Drs. John R. Lee and Leo A. Wagner.

The slate pledged not to sign the association's oath consists of Hurlbut for president, Filante for vice president, Hahn for director, and Hanzel, Jaros and Moore for delegates.

It is for the delegates that the issue of whether to sign the oath — which disclaims membership in any organization listed as subversive—will fall at next spring's convention. A carry-over alternate, Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr., refused to sign last spring and has announced he will do so again. The Marin society has proposed a simple affirmation of loyalty in place of the negative, disclaimer oath.

The slate for other officers, however, was nominated to give backing to delegates refusing to sign. The board of directors had required that the nominating committee propose only candidates for delegates who had agreed to sign the oath — an action in which, charged Hurlbut, the directors went beyond their authority, particularly since the membership voted 68-to-66 on Aug. 26 to send one or more delegates to the convention who would not sign, and attempt to get them recognition.

Dr. Hurlbut called the CMA oath "not a loyalty oath; it is a disclaimer of a conspiracy to overthrow the government." Dr. Degenhardt and the other nominating committee candidates called it a negative oath, but said it should be abolished "by constitutional means" to preserve the Marin society's votes on other issues. The opposition slate claimed the loss of votes would be more than compensated by speaking against the oath — a privilege which could not be denied.

Propounded Dr. Hurlbut: "Whose hands are clean enough to fight the loyalty oath who has already signed it? About as clean as the hands of Lady Macbeth!"

However, one non-committee candidate for delegate, Dr. Jaros, said he would "sign or not depending on direction by the society," although he would prefer not to sign the oath. And both candidates for alternate said they would prefer not to sign but would do so if directed by the society.

On Kerr-Mills vs Medicare, Degenhardt called the latter "irrevocably tied to socialized medicine," and Hurlbut said he prefers the Kerr-Mills Act, which provides federal, state and county assistance in paying the medical bills of elderly persons unable to pay their own (after the first $3,000).

Only Doctors Wagner and Moore came out for Medicare.

Dr. Hahn condemned both plans, declaring:

"Individually, we claim that no one should be denied adequate medical care regardless of ability to pay, but collectively, we quibble about paying too much for those who are able or not enough for those who are not.

"Individually, we affirm the Hippocratic principle that life, not money is what motivates the physician. Yet collectively we are asked to choose between two 'legislative solutions' that closely equate life with money.

"I would argue that it is time we cease confusing 'legislative philosophies' with the true philosophy of medicine. It is time for a return to the original ethic, to the humanizing qualities of our profession. If we believe this, then let us practice it. Then, when the legislative chips fall where they may, it is unabetted by a false image of our calling."

Dr. Hanzel, though less eloquently, agreed that neither of the legislative proposals fills the need.

Drs. Hahn, Hanzel, Moore and Wagner said they favor social security for doctors—which won overwhelming support two years ago in a Marin Medical Society referendum vote. Dr. Degenhardt said he would favor it if it were voluntary instead of compulsory. The rest opposed it.

At opening of the forum, Dr. C. Ray Leininger, society president, announced that Doctors A. Hartwell Jewell, T. Scott Strathairn and Robert D. Schell had withdrawn as candidates for directors, and Doctors William Edwards and Dallar Wagner had withdrawn as candidates for delegates. Also, Drs. Robert Chase and Jack Stage, nominated for alternates, had been found ineligible because of insufficient time as active members of the society.

Dr. Lininger conducted the forum and declared at its close: "I am proud to have been president at the time this democratic process has arisen."

Stolen Goods Innocent Plea

Walter Victor Ullner, 46, Santa Venetia television repairman, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of possession of two stolen fur pieces.

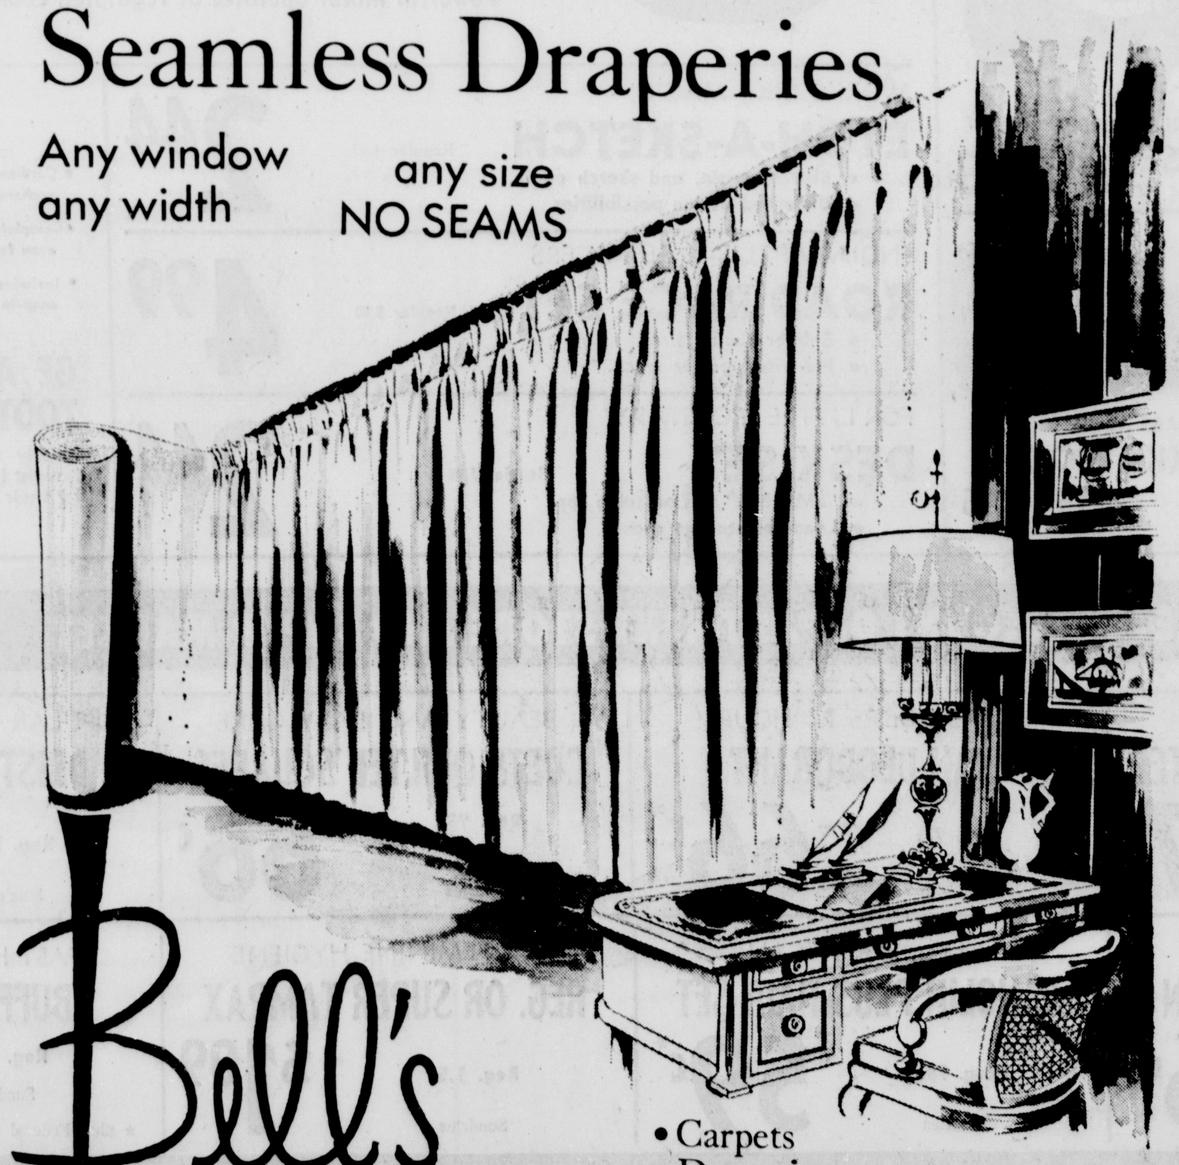

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set preliminary hearing for Nov. 18 on the felony charge.

Ullner was arrested Oct. 7 at the same time as the arrest of Byron L. Berry, 49, of Mill Valley, who was charged with two counts of burglary and two of receiving stolen goods.

Berry has been blamed by police for the $15,000 burglary of the home of Marvin S. Cowan at 21 Atwood Avenue, Sausalito, and an $8,000 burglary in Belvedere.

BISHOP ROBERT TRACY
Wants Catholic Race Stand

Church Urged To Declare For Equality

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A group of 147 U.S. prelates urged the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council today to make a strong declaration on racial equality.

Bishop Robert E. Tracy of Baton Route, La., speaking for American bishops and archbishops proposed that a council document on the laity be amended "to emphasize the equality of all members of the Roman Catholic Church.

Council press spokesman paraphrased him as telling the 2,300 prelates in St. Peters's Basilica "discrimination based solely on race can not be reconciled with our belief that God created all men equally."

In another council action, the assembly voted approval of a document modernizing the divine office, the daily prayers every priest must read, and encouraging all Catholic laymen to take up the practice.

A third major development at the council was announcement of a decision for a showdown vote on whether the Virgin Mary should be discussed within a council schema on the church as a whole, or in a separate schema devoted to her alone.

Mill Valley Is Unhappy Over Its Audit Report

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Rocky has been the road over the past two years for Mill Valley's bookkeepsers, and the 1962-63 audit, now before the city council, threatens to create a few more bumps.

Two finance directors have come and gone since 1961: John Hoopingarner and Earl Yancy. City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants has now suggested that present finance director, Thomas T. Behnke, be put on six months probation.

"Streamlining" of the department was ordered by the city council last year and City Treasurer William G. Rntherford was stripped of his main duties.

Monday the council asked Behnke and Frederic R. Kerr, certified public accountant and city auditor, certain pointed questions on the audit, then put the matter over to Dec. 2 for a supplemental report from Kerr.

Kerr, in the audit, said that Behnke was specifically assigned last January to install and operate a system of recording transactions of special assessment district funds which would incorporate basic principles of accounting control.

But, Kerr said, the system has not changed, and City Treasurer Rutherford is still recording the transactions.

Kerr reported also:

A block-by-block survey of business, professional and rental operations to evaluate license collection procedure effectiveness was suggested but not done.

Library payrolls had been paid from funds earmarked general city purposes without appropriate reimbursement.

The finance officer has failed to make periodic financial reports. Monthly reports should be instituted "at the earliest practicable time." Kerr urged.

The finance director, continued the auditor, "must organize the work of his department and utilize the services of his staff in such a way that accounting and budgetary control are adequately provided and necessary financial information provided for the use of other departments.'

Staffing of the finance department, Kerr commented, is adequate but not excessive.

Almcrants described the report to the city council as "the most disappointing audit I have read since I have been in Mill Valley."

Water District Awards $3,861 In Contracts

Directors of the Marin Municipal Water District yesterday awarded $3,861.60 in purchase contracts for various facilities needed in the district, according to business manager Charles Soldavini.

The R. H. Baker Co. of San Jose, lowest of five bidders, the district awarded a $1,372.50 contract for delivery of 348 service saddles of various sizes. A service saddle is a fitting that cover pipe connections.

To the Rubenstein Supply Co. of Oakland, lowest of four bidders, directors awarded a $1,591.60 contract for 1,000 feet of one-inch copper tubing. And to Cyclone Fence Co.—(Oakland branch office), the lowest of three bidders, directors awarded a $897 contract for fencing to the Tiburon pumping station.

Russ Watching Race Fight

But Have Their Own Problems

By FRED WYATT

The Russians are watching the civil rights fight in the United States with keen interest but aren't twitting visiting Americans about it, a teacher recently returned from the USSR to Redwood High School said today.

"The subject rarely came up because they have their own troubles with visiting African students," said instructor Robert E. Baugh, 33, who returned last month from 10 weeks of studying Russian at Moscow State University with 23 other visiting Americans.

"The Africans felt they got less hospitality than they had expected," said Baugh. "The Africans are mostly boys. They take out Russian girls. This is all right with the girls but not with the Russian boys."

The slim, wiry, articulate Baugh, who studied in Russia in 1961 under a National Defense Education Act grant, found his second stay in the Soviet Union exciting.

He said that in referring to the relaxation under Premier Nikita Khrushchev compared to the fear under Stalin, Russians told him, "We hope nothing like that ever comes back again."

"I heard few anti-American things said," reported Baugh.

Baugh's stay in Russia was hard work and little play.

"We complained over the heavy schedule but the rector wouldn't change it because it had been set up in Moscow and Washington, he told us," said Baugh. "They had us spend six hours a day in class, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., and gave us a heavy homework schedule. This cut into our sightseeing.

"In America we are used to four hours of class in the morning and our afternoons to prepare for next day—with evenings to ourselves."

Twenty-four Russians simultaneously studying English at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y., at U.S. expense, had the reverse complaint: Not enough time in class, Baugh reported.

The Americans got by nicely on the $180 a month paid them by Russia for room and meals. Transportation was paid by the inter-university committee on travel grants.

"The lectures we had, dealing with intonation, grammar, phonetics and pronunciation, were all scientifically presented and very worthwhile," said Baugh. "The ones dealing with literary standards were of less value to us."

He said the Russians mixed their literary judgments with political values and "the Soviet standards . . . were ones we could not accept in the West. Everything they said was true—but the things were the half-truths the Soviets are so good at."

The Russians, though softening in their anti-American attitude, are getting "a new cockiness since sending both a man and a woman into space this year," he said. "They are losing their feeling of inferiority to the West."

Baugh plans to return to Europe next summer—to a school in Berlin under a Department of Health, Education and Welfare grant he got this year but did not use. In 1962 he studied at the Goethe Institute in Germany.

Baugh, who was born in Oklahoma, majored in Russian at Syracuse University; has degrees in French and German from University of Oklahoma; in German from Heidelberg University; in Russian from University of Vienna; and in Slavic languages from University of California at Berkeley. He has translated for University of Oklahoma and the U.S. Air Force.

He joined Tamalpais High School as a teacher of German in February, 1960, and went to Redwood the following September as it developed its Russian program. He teaches four years of German and two of Russian. The school offers third and fourth year Russian but has no takers.

Baugh gave the Russians more surprises than they gave him. Once when he was talking with a group, one asked who could give a press conference in the United States. He replied: "Just about anybody. I can give one about this visit when I return home."

After a long silence one of the others said, "I hope you won't say anything about our conversation here."

REBUKE TO THE U.S.—Instructor Robert E. Baugh, recently returned from studying in Russia, tacks up in his Redwood High School classroom a poster he brought back, showing a scene of anti-Negro brutality as disfiguring the Statue of Liberty. The Russian text: "A shameful blemish on the face of American democracy." Generally Baugh found anti-American feeling on the wane in the Soviet Union. (Independent-Journal photo)

The complimentary cars were furnished by Anderson Chevrolet and Dervin Ford, both of Novato. The cars will be returned to the dealers at the end of the school year.

Graham Pavilion Due World Fair

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham today announced plans for a $750,000 Billy Graham pavilion at the 1964-65 World's Fair.

Graham spoke at a breakfast gathering of about 750 Protestant ministers at the Park Sheraton Hotel. He said the pavilion, which is scheduled to be completed next February, will have as its center of attraction a small movie theater to seat about 400 persons.

Graham said a film entitled "Man in the Fifth Dimension" will be shown 12 times each day. The film, he said, will deal with his evangelical approach to Christianity. He will be narrator.

Biologists from 30 to 60 nations are expected to participate in the International Biological Program, for the study of man's place in the world, and hopefully, to enlarge available resources for his future welfare. The program is to begin in 1965 and may last five to seven years.

Rockefeller Blasts Barry On U.N. Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller challenged Barry Goldwater again today on the disputed question of where the Arizona senator stands on the United Nations.

The New York governor carried the attack to his potential rival for the presidential bid for the second day of a tour of California.

OFFERS EVIDENCE

In the face of Goldwater's denial, Rockefeller offered evidence in San Francisco yesterday to support his contention that the senator favors United States' withdrawal from the U.N.

(In San Francisco Rockefeller also answered a Catholic journel's urging that he withdraw as a presidential aspirant by declaring, "One of the greatest forces in a christian community is love and understanding."

("And we can be very grateful for it," the New York governor said.

COMMENT ASKED

(He was asked for comment at a news conference on an editorial in "The Sign," a Catholic national magazine that he withdraw because of his recent marriage.

(The magazine said: "To terminate a marriage of 31 years and marry a newly divorced young mother of four young children, and then to present himself to the American people as a man with the integrity and character to lead them, is just too much.")

Rockefeller renewed his assertion against Goldwater today in a speech prepared for a Los Angeles Town Hall luncheon. He worked into it by going after President John F. Kennedy first.

He said Kennedy's lack of leadership has caused a weakening of America's alliance with her allies during the past two and half years. Then he added:

"Also, unfortunately, the answer given by some Republican leaders — Senator Goldwater, for instance—is that we withdraw from the United Nations, that we oppose the World Bank and that we end all foreign aid."

Russ Deny Cuba Order

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union yesterday denied reports it had ordered Cuba to undertake sweeping economic and political reforms and improve relations with the United States.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the report, published in the Financial Times of London and the West German news magazine Der Spiegel, was "an invention."

Panel Agrees On Need For Tideland Control, Not How

Control over the use of marshes, tidelands and submerged lands of San Francisco Bay was debated by four panelists on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today, iwth the main argument settling on how control should be handled."

All agreed that a general plan on the use of such lands throughout the bay is needed.

Mrs. Harold A. Summers, president of the Marin Conservation League, and Stephen H. Kaufmann, attorney for the Strawberry Recreation District, agreed that the state had a definite responsibility for enforcing the plan and possibly in purchasing some of the property now in private ownership.

Samuel W. Gardiner, president of Marin Canalways and Development Co. and also an attorney, and E. Elmore Hutchinson, a civil engineer, saw little or no benefit from state involvement.

Hutchinson, the man who designed the Belvedere lagoon development, said he loved the bay and the open space it provides, but private property rights must be respected. Tidelands and submerged lands should be treated the same as an undeveloped hillside, he contended. To preserve the hillside for public use, it must be purchased from the private owner.

Gardiner estimated it would cost a billion dollars or more to purchase all the privately owned lands of the bay.

Kaufmann argued that the State of California had created the problem by selling submerged lands under legislation enacted over 100 years ago. This legislation was later reversed, but by then it was too late. He said small public agencies such as the Strawberry Recreation District do not have the money nor borrowing capacity to make any effective purchase of the lands.

Gardiner reported on hearings Tuesday and yesterday in San Francisco before the Assembly interim committee on natural resources, planning and public works, held to gather testimony on a proposed state moratorium on development of tidal and submerged land to allow for development of a Bay master play.

He said a distinction was made between marshlands, (land five feet or less above mean high tide), tidelands, (everything between mean high and mean low tide line), and suberged lands, (everything below the low tide line).

Marshlands, Gardiner thought, could be improved by development.

Mrs. Summers disagreed. She said marshlands are open space and serve an important function as breeding and feeding grounds for fish and birds. The sports fishing business grosses 70 million dollars a year in the Bay Area, she said.

Mrs. Summers also outlined the work of the Marin Conservation League in purchasing submerged lands in Richardson Bay and Corte Madera Bay.

Hutchinson and Gardiner said filling of submerged lands would be a very slow thing because the costs involved were so high. Hutchinson said a moratorium to allow the state to work out a plan for use of marshlands and tidelands as well as submerged lands would deny the rights of property owners who have been paying taxes on their property and making plans for development.

Gardiner said the length of time needed for the planning is not certain. Four years has been proposed for the moratorium, but the planning could take up to 10 years or more.

Moratorium On Bay Fill To Be Requested

The chairman of a state Assembly committee studying the effects of filling in the bay will request that consideration be given to establishing a three-year moratorium at the 1964 budget session of the legislature.

At the conclusion of two-day hearing held in San Francisco yesterday by the Assembly interim committee on natural resources, planning and public works, chairman Edwin L. Z'berg (D-Sacramento) said he would ask Gov. Edmund G. Brown to include the bill in the budget session.

The bill which Z'berg will recommend would call for laws to be amended so that tidelands granted by the state cannot be filled except in conformity to a regional plan.

Z'berg's announcement came at the conclusion of the hearings after arguments for and against fill operations were presented to the committee.

San Rafael Mayor John I. McInnis, president of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, told the committee yesterday that association should be given the chance to draw up a regional plan for bay fill operations.

Also testifying was Walter T. Shannon of the State Department of Fish and Game. Shannon said the tidelands of the bay are food sources for fish and wildlife and that the food sources would be destroyed if present uncoordinated filling operations continued.

William Penn Mott Jr., president of Save San Francisco Bay Assn., said the bay was a great natural resource which should be preserved.

He said that the shallow tidelands provide the oxygen to eliminate sewage which is dumped into the bay. One acre of tideland eliminates the sewage coming from a block of 200 homes, he said.

Without the tidelands, Mott said, the bay could become the cesspool of the future.

SEA BREAKS BARGE'S BACK

While the tug Sudbury from Vancouver, B.C., stands by helplessly, the Canadian barge Island Maple, loaded with pulp liquor for a Hoquiam, Wash., plant breaks up in heavy seas off Cape Flattery near Vancouver. The wreck yesterday was the second barge to break up in almost the same area within two weeks. (AP Wirephoto)

Mental Health Clinic Needed, Board Advised

Of mental health services needed in Marin, an outpatient clinic is in greatest demand, according to letters received by the Marin Mental Health advisory board.

The board met last night at the Civic Center and tabulated about 40 replies from county departments, health agencies, hospitals and other organizations.

Members discussed such services as a treatment center for alcoholics, services for inebriates and drug addicts, and local commitments of mentally ill persons.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the group will meet again next Wednesday night with a consultant from the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of health and welfare in San Mateo County.

The group, headed by Mrs. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley, plans a public hearing on Nov. 13 and hopes to have a complete set of recommendations ready for the Marin County Board of Supervisors early in December.

Joseph Howard, Jr., a war correspondent of the New York Times, got the story of Gen. Phil Kearney's funeral in the Civil War, from which reporters were banned, by wearing a surplice and carrying a prayer book in the procession.

PRESIDENT SIGNS RETARDATION BILL

Measure Provides 355 Million Dollars To Fight One Of Major Hazards To Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy today signed a bill to provide 355 million dollars to combat mental retardation through better maternal and infant care. He called the measure "an important landmark" in the drive to eliminate one of the major health hazards of mankind.

At a ceremony in the cabinet room of the White House, Kennedy said that with new programs made possible by the bill, "We can say with some assurance that although children may be the victims of fate, they will not be the victims of our neglect."

"It gives me great pleasure to approve this bill," the president said. "It will strengthen our maternal and child health and crippled children services. It will initiate a new program of comprehensive maternity and infant care aimed directly at preventing mental retardation. It will help arouse local communities to a major attack on the problems of mental retardation."

There was applause among members of Congress of both parties present for the ceremony when the president gave a particular salute to his sister, Mrs. Eunice Shriver, for her work in behalf of the legislation.

"She is one of the best lobbyists I ever had," the president said with a smile.

The field of mental retardation has been one of the major philanthropies of the Kennedy family for a number of years. Another of the president's sisters was stricken with a mental disorder as a young girl.

Navy Replaces Passenger Plane

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—Connie ends 10 years and nine billion passenger-cargo miles of transpacific flying for the Military Air Transport Service tomorrow.

The C121 Super Constellations are being replaced by the speedier turbo-prop C-130E Hercules.

Connies, tri-tailed four-engine transports, will continue to fly with the Navy's Tachikawa detachment, with reserve units and with the Air National Guard.

The Connies used over the 10 years were assigned to the Naval Air Transport Wing, Pacific and were based at Moffett Field.

Siskiyou Sheriff Hurt In Collision

MEDFORD (UPI)—Sheriff Al Cottar of Siskiyou County, Calif., was reported in fair condition today from injuries suffered when his pickup truck hit a herd of five horses in California last night.

Cottar, 47, was brought to Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital here and was given X-rays today. He suffered facial injuries.

Dixie To Hire Two Teachers; Typing Class Is Authorized

Two new teachers will be hired by the Dixie School District to meet growth problems.

District trustees last night authorized Supt. Dennie B. Willis to hire a fulltime teacher for Vallecito School and an additional teacher to fill in elsewhere in the district.

Willis reported Vallecito School eighth grade classes now average 34 and "are growing daily." He said classes in lower grades have 35 or 36 pupils.

The trustees also authorized the superintendent to arrange for purchase of 10 typewriters to begin a typing class at Vallecito School for eighth grade pupils, and to contract for installation of four retractable basketball TX standards in the multi-purpose room at Vallecito School.

Willis was asked to begin planning immediately for an addition to the multi-use room at Santa Margarita School.

Board members discussed the superintendent's proposal, made last night, that the school year be extended by 10 days, teachers be asked to teach every third year in the summer school without additional pay, and teachers' salaries be boosted 10 per cent. Trustees asked the superintendent for more concrete information on how the extra 10 days would be used and what improvements could be made in the school program.

SPOT OF SUN — Redwood High School sophomore, Diane Elizabeth Davidson, 15, from London, chats with Toni Harris and Ron Gaviati during a lunch break at the school.

TALKS WISTFULLY OF FOG

Redwood Girl Has Been Around, But It's Obvious London Is Home

By LYNN DIAMOND
Redwood High School

You might be in for a little confusion by trying to guess where home is for 15-year-old Diane Elizabeth Davidson, a sophomore at Redwood High School.

Records would show that she was born in Malaya. She has been in Zanzibar, Morocco, Spain, Italy and France, but her current address is with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry C. C. Davidson, at 26 Southridge East Road, Tiburon.

Actually, if you listened to Diane talk with devotion about the sooty London fog, you would soon know where her home is. Only a Londoner can talk wistfully about such fog.

The fog, "old things" and green are the three things she misses most while living temporarily in Marin. The Davidsons expect to be here a year while the doctor teaches anesthesiology at University of California Medical Center in San Francisco.

Dr. Davidson was with the British Army in Malaya when Diane was born. While she was still an infant, the family was briefly in Zanzibar. Diane went to Morocco on a student tour recently. Other trips abroad have been family journeys.

But Diane always returns to the fog

"London is so dirty. The fog in the winter is not at all like your fog—it's much dirtier, all full of black soot, and you can't even see your hand in front of your face," she says.

"But I think it's great, because we can't go to school because the buses won't run. Even in thin fog, they have to let us out early so we will be able to get home while its still fairly light.

"The very old buildings in London have a sort of fascination for me. I love history and old things—that's what I love best about London: the museum, the old houses just sitting there. I like modern gadgets and furniture, but you get tired of them.

"What I think I miss most is green. Everything here is brown. It's green all the time in London. Also in the autumn the leaves get all golden and red. Here they're just dirty."

Diane said she and her family like foreign food, the theater, traveling, swimming and skiing.

In the Isle of Wight in the English Channel, the Davidsons have a summer home overlooking the cliffs on the sea, where they go to swim and do nothing.

Though only a sophomore at Redwood High School, Diane is taking senior French and Latin, and has an intense interest in languages in general.

However, she said that none of her subjects here seem to have any relation to those she took in England.

For instance, at home, her French class concerned itself entirely with grammar, while at Redwood "all we seem to do is read French books and things."

Since she loves to read, this should be a welcome change, except that she finds herself having to do a great deal more homework. Where she previously attended school, the teachers were required to use a regular homework timetable so they could only assign a limited amount of work.

Although she takes as many as 20 classes a year at home, and is required to wear a uniform, the all-girl school she attends is comparable to the American public school.

"In England what you call public schools are private schools," Diane said. "The public schools are really prep schools for the sons of dukes and counts."

Four Injured In Three-Car Crash On Drake Blvd.

Four persons were injured in a three-car, chain-reaction accident at 9:30 a.m. yesterday in the westbound lane of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard 120 feet east of McAllister Avenue, Kentfield, and one driver was cited.

John E. Marshall, 22, of Cole Drive, Marin City, was cited for driving too close behind a car driven by Thomas Werner Schwarz, 51, of San Francisco. The Schwarz car was jammed ahead into the rear of one driven by Mrs. Barbara Anna Russell, 33, of 76 Barranca Road, Greenbrae, who had stopped for heavy traffic ahead.

Marshall was treated at Marin General Hospital and transferred to San Rafael General Hospital where he was recovering from a cut lip and bruises of the chest today. Schwarz complained of chest pains but refused treatment.

Linda Daniels, 33, of Marin City, a passenger in Marshall's car, and Mrs. Russell were examined at Marin General Hospital.

Michigan's land area of about 36.5 milion acres is larger than Greece and five times the size of Belgium.

Two Men Injured In Bridge Crash

Two men were bruised about 3:15 p.m. yesterday in a two car crash midway on the Golden Gate Bridge.

A northbound sedan driven by James D. Nesbitt, 22, of San Francisco, stalled. Nesbitt veered to the right lane. His car was hit in the rear by one driven by Jerome T. Gaspard, 23, of 1595 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, a soldier en route home from Fort Scott, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Gaspard was treated at Letterman Hospital, San Francisco. Nesbitt was to see his doctor.

Five Airmen, Florist Injured In Smashup

Five sergeants of the 28th Air Division at Hamilton Air Force Base and a San Anselmo florist were injured about 5:50 p.m. yesterday when the florist's northbound car pierced the divider fence of Highway 101 near Alto and sideswiped the airmen's southbound auto.

Southbound traffic was snarled a half hour as cars were rerouted around the injured persons and wreckage.

Jack Krug, 59, of 20 Oak Knoll Drive, the florist, whose car tore through 36 feet of chain link fence 350 feet north of the Alto overpass, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts and left knee injuries.

Air Force members, all living on the base, were treated at the base hospital; the driver, James T. Gayton, 36, for a skinned left elbow; Chief M/Sgt. Marion C. Houze, 39, cut over his right eye; M/Sgt. James M. Warren, 34, right ankle cut; M/Sgt. Omer C. Pennington, 41, left hand bruise, and Senior M/Sgt. Paul Laknford, 44, for neck strain.

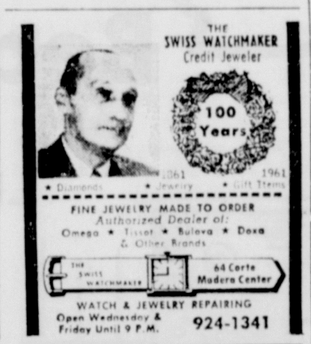

Krug told California Highway Patrolmen Daniel Sully and John Halligan he became "very dizzy and blacked out" and did not know what happened after that.

Krug said he had left the hospital five weeks ago. His doctor told the officers Krug has a heart condition.

Tito Aide Sent With Wreath To FDR Grave

NEW YORK (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia sent his ambassador to the United States to Hyde Park, N.Y., today to place a wreath on the graves of former President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A group of New York City detectives provided an escort for the ambassador, Veljko Micunovic, and Miroslav Kreacic, Yugoslav consul general to New York, who accompanied him.

Mill Valley Planners Recommend

Edna Maguire School playground and four other unclassified parcels of land were recommended for zoning by the Mill Valley planning commission Tuesday night.

The playground was recommended to be zoned as open area. Scott Valley Unit 4 was recommended for single family residential with 20,000-square foot lots, and Scott Valley Unit 3 for single family residential with 15,000-square foot lots.

Scott Annexation 3, Scott Valley, was recommended to be disignated open area. The commission, according to planning aide Jean McLain, suggested that open areas which are to be dedicated to the city should be zoned open area and street turnaround areas should be considered part of street right-of-way.

The Doud-Oehler Annexation on the north ridge was recommended for an interim zoning classification requiring 100,000-square foot minimum lots in single family category.

Planning consultant John D. Erickson presented a rough draft of the proposed planned residential ordinance and a public hearing on it was set for Nov. 26.

Man Held To Answer On Forgery Charges

Martin Brigmon, 35, of Los Angeles, was held to answer in Marin County Superior Court on two charges of forgery yesterday after a preliminary hearing before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court.

Brigmon is scheduled to appear Monday before Judge N. Charles Brusatori for arraignment. He was arrested Oct. 13 by Fairfax police and charged with passing two forged $54 checks from the Meadow Hunt and Trail Club of Bolinas at the Food Villa Market in Fairfax.

'Dumb' Yogi Say You Can't Hit A Ball With A PhD Watchamacallit

Jack Hanley

Yogi Berra's mutilation of grammar has produced many a belly laugh since his 1947 rookie days with the Yankees. But nobody ever accused Yogi of being stupid.

Like Casey Stengel, Yogi always could speak quite clearly whenever the occasion demanded. He never had trouble convincing the Yankee management he was worth $50,000 a year. And Phil Rizzuto, Yogi's partner in a 40-alley bowling establishment in Clifton, N.J., will tell you Yogi is a shrewd business operator. So will the executives of a soft drinking company of which Yogi is vice president.

After observing Stengel for years, Yogi made a study of playing dumb. And he almost was as smart at it as the Ol' Perfesser himself.

While Casey still was managing the Yankees he paid Yogi a top compliment and indirectly predicted Yogi's eventual elevation to the No. 1 field job.

"HE PLAYS anywhere — catch, infield, outfield," said Casey of Yogi. "He hears every thing and knows all the scandal. If Dan Topping wasn't here he'd run the business. Or me, he'd take over my job."

Yogi was never sensitive about his losing bouts with the English language. "It don't bother me," he would say. "I never saw a guy hit a baseball with a PhD watchamacallit. Besides, I like to get kidded—that means they like me."

YOGI PROVIDED many occasions for being kidded. There was the occasion of his speech on Yogi Berra Night in his home town of St. Louis when he said "I want to thank all of you people who made this night necessary."

There was the time a sports writer, interviewing Yogi on the subject of catching, got this reply: "Bill Dickey learned me his experience." And the same writer, wondering whether he would be asked to Yogi's wedding, getting this answer: "I dunno. I'm not gonna invite you unless you come."

LEFTY GOMEZ once asked Yogi what size hat he wore. "You mean now—or when I'm in condition?" was the reply.

But nobody ever kidded Yogi the time he put an end to a futile All-Star Game strategy meeting on how to pitch to Stan Musial.

"The trouble with you guys," said Yogi, "you're trying to figure out in 15 minutes what nobody's figured out in 15 years."

Year's Truce In Amateur Track Feud

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Track and Field Federation has given the green light to its student athletes to compete in any meets they want without strings attached.

The shift in policy, announced by USTFF executive director Charles "Chic" Werner yesterday, gets the college trackmen off a hot seat in the prolonged battle with the AAU.

The policy, approved by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was named an arbitrator by President Kennedy a year ago in the feud between the federation and the AAU, will be in effect until Nov. 1, 1964.

The USTFF says the year of truce would make possible that the U.S. is represented by its best athletes in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo.

Limey's Moppet Wins

SAN BRUNO (AP) — Limey's Moppet, $8.40, won the $6,000 Lassie Stakes for 2-year-old fillies at Tanforan yesterday.

It's Official! Berra Manager Of Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra was named manager of the New York Yankees today, confirming reports that had been widespread since Ralph Houk was promoted to general manager two days ago.

Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees, made the announcement, saying Berra had signed a week ago and that the contract was for one year at Berra's request.

Topping said Berra's salary would be less than he received this year as a player-coach—reportedly $45,000—and added that Yogi would no longer be an active player. His salary, as manager, it is estimated, will be $32,500 a year.

Appointment of the 38-year-old former catcher was announced at a large scale press conference. It had been common knowledge that Berra was the choice from the minute Houk was promoted on Tuesday after leading the Yankees to three American League pennants and two World Series championships in his three years as manager.

Houk succeeded Roy Hamey, who resigned because of ill health.

Berra, one of the most popular players in baseball and the top home run hitting catcher in major league history, takes over the managerial post after a 17-year career with the Yankees.

This past season, Berra served his first year as coach, and also was a part-time player.

A native of St. Louis, he now lives with his wife, Carmen, and three sons in Montclair, N.J.

That Berra was considered managerial timber came as a surprise to some but not to knowledgeable baseball people who respect Yogi's keen analytical mind, native intelligence and ability to get along with people.

Berra's imminent graduation from player-coaching ranks to the managership comes as no surprise to Casey Stengel, who led the Yankees to 10 pennants in 12 years before giving way to Houk in 1961.

"They did some surprising things when I was there," said the skipper of the New York Mets, "but this move doesn't surprise me at all.

"There's nothing wrong with Berra. He's been a catcher for many years, calling the pitches and studying the batters. I found him to be a good man behind the plate. He had to be or he wouldn't have been in all those Series and on those championship teams.

Stengel pointed out that Berra, 38, who has played 17 full seasons with the Yankees, should be familiar with all the pitchers and batters in the league.

Terra Linda Has 2 Preps Of Week

Quarterback Bob Taylor and linebacker Stan Pareto, co-captains for the Terra Linda High School Trojans, have been selected as Preps of the Week by the Independent-Journal sports staff.

Their selection came after Taylor led the offense and Pareto the defense in the Trojans' 14-0 triumph over Novato High School last Saturday.

Taylor was credited with "a fine job of calling plays," by Trojans' coach Pete Limm. The 5-10, 150-pound Taylor completed seven passes on 14 attempts for 73 yards in the game. He also scored one of the two touchdowns on a quarterback sneak from one yard out.

Pareto, although only 5-7 and 151 pounds, was a defensive standout in the game, making eight unassisted tackles and helping out in six other tackles.

Novato blockers were trying to double-team him on many plays but on most occasions even that didn't work. He moves around quite well from his linebacker position and spots plays quickly. Besides making so many tackles, Pareto also intercepted one of Roy Otis' passes.

Both Trojan stars are returning lettermen playing their senior year of football. Taylor is the offensive captain for the Terra Lindans and Pareto is the captain for the defense.

Berkeley Man's $210,000 Suit Against PGA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $210,000 damage suit against the Professional Golfers Assn. and nine of its officers went to trial today in U.S. District Court.

The action was brought by Herbert C. Deesen, 40, of Berkeley.

Deesen charged he was "boycotted" by PGA committees which approve golfers who make up the tournament lists; that he was discriminated against unfairly, and that the PGA violated the Sherman antitrust act.

In addition to $210,000 damages he seeks an injunction directing the PGA to approve his entrance into tournaments.

Stanford's Thurlow Shakes Flu Attack

STANFORD (AP) — A 37-man Notre Dame football squad was scheduled to arrive at Stanford this afternoon where they will meet the Indians this Saturday. Stanford halfback Steve Thurlow is expected to play in the game, in spite of an early week attack of flu.

Henry Ota, a second baseman from Torrance, Calif., will captain Dartmouth's 1964 baseball team. He pitched and played the outfield in high school.

BOY SIDESTEPS BEAR TO SCORE A TOUCHDOWN

REW, Pa. (AP)—It was nearly dark.

Football player Ken Woods, 16, took the ball in a pickup game and broke into the clear, heading for a touchdown.

A dark form appeared in his path. Ken sidestepped it and continued across the goal.

The form turned out to be a 350-pound bear, a frequent visitor the past several weeks in this McKean County town.

Mantle Expected Out Of Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year center fielder, says he is "doing fine" and expects to leave the hospital this weekend.

Mantle underwent an operation, last week on his left knee for removal of a loose cartilage.

S.A. Angler Catches 130-Pound Sturgeon

Henry Fraser of 111 Camino De Herrera, San Anselmo, caught a 130-pound, 75-inch sturgeon last Saturday afternoon off the shore of Paradise Cay on the Tiburon Peninsula.

It took about half an hour to land the whopper. Fraser used anchovie for bait and was using only a 20-pound test line.

TV CAMERAS AT ACADEMY

Deaf School, S.R. Military In Unusual Game Tomorrow

San Rafael Military Academy's grid team will be in front of Channel 7's television cameras tomorrow afternoon when they battle the California School for the Deaf in the SRMA stadium at 3:15.

The game will be taped and televised Saturday morning at 8 o'clock on Channel 7's weekly "High School Football" telecast series.

A highlight of the Bay Counties Athletic League, the contest will pit an inspired deaf team from Berkeley against the Cadets of San Rafael which has downed the East Bay youngsters in every previous meeting.

Coach Dave Fraley and his California School for the Deaf team have a 4-0 record so far in the 1963 season while the Cadets, under Coach Larry Fulton, have a 1-4 record. Thus the Marin team will be trying to hand its arch rivals their first defeat of the season.

Viewers will be interested in watching the unique methods employed by the Berkeley team. Sign language is used in the huddles and the team members begin offensive plays by watching for the moment when the center snaps the ball. Their plays can only end when the ball carrier is brought to the turf, since the referee's whistle cannot be heard.

Insight into the unique play will be given during the telecast by Channel 7 sports reporters Bud Foster and Carl Cordell.

Half-time activities will include interviews with two students from the California School for the Deaf who are expert lip-readers, and performances by the well-trained San Rafael Military Academy drill team and marching band.

In league action, the Cadets have won one game and have lost one. Their victory was over Emery last Friday, 19-18.

In other Marin County high school grid action this weekend Tamalpais and Drake clash at Kentfield and Redwood invades San Rafael High tomorrow night, 8 o'clock and Terra Linda hosts Marin Catholic Saturday at 2 p.m.

College of Marin Tars travel to Marysville for a Saturday 8 p.m. date with Yuba College.

Pressure Mounts On Bobby Dodd Over 'Incident'

ATLANTA (AP) — Pressure mounted today on George Tech football Coach Bobby Dodd to reinstate end Ted Davis to the Yellow Jacket squad.

Davis, who was ejected from last Saturday's Tech-Auburn game for kicking an Auburn player in the face, resigned from the squad Monday. He apologized to Auburn halfback David Rawson for the "incident."

A Tech official reported last night that the athletic office had received numerous telephone calls and telegrams from persons appealing to Dodd to reinstate Davis.

Dodd had no comment.

Morton Leads Cal Through Pass Drills

BERKELEY (AP)—Quarterback Craig Morton, who Southern California Coach John McKay called "the best off-balance passer I've seen in some time," led his fellow Golden Bears in passing drills yesterday. McKay's Trojans travel to Berkeley Saturday in the Big Six opener for both teams.

Mill Valley hardtop driver Phil Pedler finished 10th in point standings for the 1963 racing season at Vallejo Speedway, driving a car co-sponsored by Joe's Cross Roads of Novato and Novato Auto Parts.

It May Be Getting Later Than You Think To Have Some Outdoor Fun

STEVENS

I'm sure my caller meant well when he exclaimed: 'Tough luck, Steve, tough luck!" But he was all wrong.

I'm the luckiest guy in the world. It was only what the Doc called a "mild case." "A week or so of complete rest and you'll be up and around," he assured me. Tough luck? Uh uh! Good luck! Has given me time to count my blessings — to realize how wonderful memories can be. Has let me recall the hundreds of pleasant and exciting trips I have had in field and on streams. Made me revel in the thought that I can still look forward to the opening of steelhead fishing in the coast streams, the ducks that will be waiting for me; ditto, the wary pheasant, and the annual migration of striped bass and salmon to the spawning grounds.

MADE ME oh so thankful that I hadn't waited to accumulate a store of wonderful memories of trips with the finest fellows in the world: companions with whom I have fished and hunted and hiked and beachcombed.

Yes, I am one lucky hombre. Lucky in having taken on the pleasant chore many years ago of disseminating fishing and hunting information to you readers, and thereby having the opportunity to strongly suggest that each and every one of you start building up a store of fishing and hunting memories while you still have time.

The chance to remind you that for the man, woman or child whose recreation is mainly in the outdoors, this northern and central California he lives in is truly a sportsman's paradise.

YOU KNOW, folks, there is no guarantee that you will never have a coronary attack. It might not be a mild one, either. It could spoil any chance you would have of amassing a stockpile of memories. It could be later than you think, as the saying goes.

So, while you are still able to hang onto one end of a fishing rod, or hoist a gun to your shoulder, why not start building that reserve of memories.

For example—Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia reported a great many sprigs in evidence on the Flats by the Hamilton Air Force Base, and according to the reports from the north, a great many more are liable to wing their way to this general area. A bit of stormy weather has created a high point in the duck kill in the Honey Lake-Klamath Basin region. "On the first four days of shooting after the opening on Oct. 8, more ducks were taken than were taken there all of last year," according to a release from the F&G. (A still later report claims still more birds have come into the area.)

YOU MIGHT try striper fishing on the Contra Costa side of the San Pablo Bay. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina just called to tell me that after a very slow Saturday; Sunday and Monday were fairly productive. "On Monday the party boats averaged about 2½ fish per rod. Mostly small and medium sized, but fresh run and hard fighters," said Bennett. He also mentioned a few of the experts making the grade with fish to 20 pounds—some on bullhead baits.

There's still time for you to begin building memories for the future, but don't keep putting it off. "All comes to him who waits" may be a truism, but very often all that comes is old age and the inability to enjoy it. Think it over. So long!

Oakland's Daniels Honored

NEW YORK (AP)—Clem Daniels, finding a second home in Oakland after being discarded by the old Dallas Texans, has been named Player of Week in the American Football League for his performance against the New York Jets.

Daniels, former Prairie View collegian, was dropped from the title-bound Dallas club, now the Kansas City Chiefs, in 1962 and dumped on a last place team. He started the '63 season in high gear but was hampered by a bruised leg for four games.

NEAR RECORD

The Oakland halfback just missed tying the AFL record set by Billy Cannon, who gained 216 yards in one game in 1961. Daniels wound up with 200 yards in 27 carries last Sunday including touchdown runs of 74 and 8 yards. He also scored on a 56-yard pass from Cotton Davidson, another refugee from the old Texans. As a result the Raiders knocked the Jets out of first place in the league's Eastern Division 49-26.

McHAN 'PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Quarterback Lamar McHan of the 49ers, shown in action during Sunday's 20-14 upset over the Chicago Bears, has been named National Football League's "Player of the Week" by Associated Press. McHan completed 10 of 20 passes for 141 yards and one touchdown as the previously-winless 49ers upended the previously-unbeaten Bears. (AP Wirephoto)

Les Richter Day At 49er-Ram Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sunday will be Les Richter Day at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The Los Angeles Rams and their fans are giving the ex-linebacker a 33rd birthday party, with half time devoted to Richter.

Richter played with the team for nine seasons and never missed a game.

The Rams lock horns with the San Francisco 49ers who last week knocked off the previously unbeaten Chicago Bears.

NFL To Experiment With Pay-TV In '64

NEW YORK (UPI) — National Football League clubs will keep faith with their millions of home television viewers even though some may experiment with pay-TV in 1964 and 1965.

That was NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle's pledge today following his announcement that the league's 14 clubs have been granted permission to experiment with presenting games on theater-TV screens in 1964 and 1965. Rozelle said the league's first experiment with theater-TV could be with its 1963 championship game Dec. 29.

In making the announcement, Rozelle emphasized the league's intention to continue its current policy of home television for all away games and for home games except within a 75-mile radius of the city in which the game is played.

AWAY GAMES

"The fans in all 14 of our cities will see all their teams' away games as in the past," said Rozelle, "and the fans in non-league cities will continue to see our games in the same pattern as in recent years."

The difference in 1964 and 1965, however, will be that individual clubs will be able to experiment with theater-TV of their home games. The league's current regular-season contract with CBS forbids all use of pay-TV. The circuit's contract for its title game is with NBC.

"In the last month, in discussions with network officials and advertisers, I've said when we take bids for the new two-year contract for regular-season games we would reserve the right whether to use pay-TV in blacked-out areas," said Rozelle.

Rozelle explained that he first explored the possibility of experimenting with theater television last December when the league's championship game between the Green Bay Packers and the New York Giants because of a sellout.

"Our championship game contract with NBC made it impossible last year," said Rozelle, "but we have since inserted a clause into the contract permitting us to experiment with theater-TV for the 1963 title game."

WESTERN DIVISION

The 1963 championship game is scheduled for the city of the Western Division winner. Speculation is that the league would elect to try pay-TV for the championship game this year if the game should be played in Chicago or Baltimore.

Rozelle gave no indication of the price that might be charged for pay-TV of either the championship game or regular season games. Theater-TV tickets for recent heavyweight boxing bouts have ranged in price from $5 to $10 each.

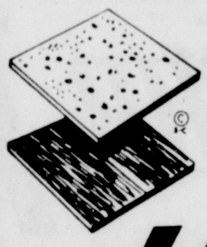

The two networks will pay the NFL a total of $5,576,000, including $926,000 for the title game, for home television rights this year.

TEAM SPIRIT HIGH

49ers Feel They Can Beat Anyone

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—After their 20-14 upset over the Chicago Bears last Sunday, the San Francisco 49ers could be expected to experience a letdown. But Coach Jack Christiansen says the squad will be fired up at Los Angeles this weekend.

"The spirit is real good," he said. "We're getting ready to play the Rams. We won't be down this week."

In fact, Christiansen insists that the team's spirit was never really "down" despite its dismal record this season.

"It has been real good all along," he said. "But this win should really pick 'em up. With one win behind them, they feel they can beat anybody now. I just hope they can keep that spirit."

Quarterback Lamar McHan learned yesterday that his performance Sunday, which included 10 completed passes in 20 attempts for 141 yards, won him the Associated Press "Player of the Week" award.

For McHan, who joined the 49ers just two weeks before the Bear game, it was the first big honor since he was named "College Back of the Week" for Arkansas 10 years ago.

Warriors Score 2nd League Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors continued their emphasis on balanced scoring last night and ground out their second league win of the season, 99-95, over the St. Louis Hawks.

Al Attles put San Francisco ahead to stay with nine minutes left after the Warriors overcame a 10-point third period deficit carved by Hawk Charlie Vaughn.

Wilt Chamberlain led the winners scoring with 22 points and 19, including 9 in the fourth quarter. Bob Pettit was high for the Hawks with 24.

San Francisco now stands 2-1 in National Basketball Association play and St. Louis 1-2.

The Warriors return home to play Cincinnati Saturday.

Painting The Bottom Of A 36-Foot Cruiser Can Be Quite A Big Chore

Once we owned a lovely, 36-foot cruiser with a wooden hull. We prized her, hysterical with the joy of ownership. Yet, how we dreaded that terrible yearly ritual of: The Painting of the Bottom.

Pulled out of the water onto the ways she suddenly beame Gargantuan. Her under-water area appeared comparable to that of the Queen Mary. Or so it seemed as we stirred copper paint and contemplated our infinitesimal paint brush.

The 'bull-gang" members of our family scraped her hull into painting condition, but they flatly refused to paint. "We're allergic to copper," they said. "it always makes our eyes swell shut and makes us sneeze. You paint." So, we painted; and our eyes swelled shut and we sneezed too.

Our next boat was a 14-footer.

QUESTION: I mostly fish in the upper San Pablo; and I keep my little boat in the water. Don't have need for a trailer at all. My boat, being fiberglassed, I thought sure she wouldn't need any copper on her bottom. But she sure picks up grass fast, just like a wooden hull. Will copper paint hurt the fiberglass?

S. A., San Rafael

ANSWER: It won't injure the fiberglass. However, if you ever decide to sell your boat, its appearance might hurt the sale. Especially if the buyer had in mind to trail it. If you enjoy being in water, you can keep the grass and barnacles off the hull, and have fun working at it. Take your craft into waist-deep water, and you go over the side with a scrub brush in your hand. It's surprising how fast you can accomplish a clean hull. Only when you really understand the term: Sticks like a barnacle.

If water activities bore you, by all means paint her. But you'll still have to scrub and repaint at intervals, because grass presents an incredible drag. Rest assured, though, you'll never be bothered with the greatest scourge of the wooden hull. The shipworn.

The high-ranking frustration of this nasty borer is — fiberglass.

ON THIS subject of antifouling paint, it might be the time to say that those expecting top results from their reing top results from their painting, should remember certain odd properties inherent in antifouling paint. 1—After painting, and while still wet, the craft must be put back into the water—and left in. 2—Care should be taken not to scrape the hull against piling, or to beach her on gravel. Any copper-free area will be an invasion spot for a host of marine "nasties."

Last, but never least, don't use copper paint on a metal hull, or on metal fittings. You'll be sorry. Galvanic action could reduce your craft to scrap.

QUESTION: I want to buy a small boat and outfit soon. What advantages can I get from twin outboards. Would the fuel increase be excessive?

Mark K., Sonoma

ANSWER: If one motor would put your boat on a fast plane and give good performance, there's not much need for another unit. You would have the expense and nuisance of doubling most components. Lower units, of course, present an unavoidable drag especially in the higher rpm's. So you double that too. As to fuel consumption, that depends on variables, although there is usually an increase.

Do you expect to cruise long distances? If so, that extra unit could be an added safety advantage. Consider where you'll do most of your boating, also the size craft and motor (or motors) you plan to purchase. Finally, let a boat dealer give you his competent opinion.

NOW THAT the rainy season approaches, comes a warning on the danger of using your boat for a rain barrel. Pull your drain plugs. If you don't have plugs, keep your craft well covered, or under shelter. It's easy to forget that a hull filled with water represents a tremendous weight that could remould your sleek boat into something decidely pudgy.

DR. PAULING AGAIN RIPS MOON PLAN

Thinks Money Could Be Spent Better In Research To Prevent Human Suffering

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The on-again, off-again dispute between two U.S. Nobel Prize winners over the value of the 20-billion-dollar moon project has broken out again.

The argument of words and ideas between distinguished scientists Dr. Linus C. Pauling and Harold C. Urey was put aside yesterday to avoid disrupting the centennial party of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Frederick Seitz, academy president, told the learned pair that the gathering was a birthday party, not an occasion for a debate.

The controversy began when Pauling publicly criticized the U.S. Apollo program man-on-the-moon program. Instead of spending the billions for the flight, Pauling said the money would be better spent on basic research to alleviate human suffering.

The academy audience gave the two-time Nobel laureate strong applause, but some members were disgruntled that he used the centennial celebration to voice what they called political opinions.

Urey, who received his Nobel Prize in 1934 for chemistry, and is supporter of the moon program, was anxious to answer Pauling's arguments and scheduled a press conference yesterday. However, Seitz intervened and urged both men to hold their opinions until later.

Unruh Will Visit Malaysia For U.S.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI)—Jesse M. Unruh, speaker of the California State Assembly, will visit Kuala Lumpur for four days beginning Oct. 31, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

Unruh, one of California's best known politicians, will meet with Malaysian students and educators and deliver a lecture on the "impact of education on national development." Unruh's visit is being sponsored by the U.S. State Department.

Bird Sanctuary Is Closed As Waterfowl Arrive

Fall flights of migratory waterfowl having arrived, the National Audubon Society's Richardson Bay Sanctuary will be closed to public use beginning Monday, it has been announced by society president Carl W. Buchheister.

When most of the waterfowl have moved out next spring, the sanctuary area will be reopened to public use. The reopening date also will be publicly announced in advance.

"This is done," Buchheister said, "in conformance with the terms of the leases of these submerged lands to the society, for wildlife protection purposes, by the County of Marin and the City of Belvedere.

"The sanctuary will be patrolled as usual by veteran Audubon warden John O. Larson, resident manager of the sanctuary, who is deputized by both federal and state governments."

Justice Department Clears Papers For Logging Rights

The Justice Department yesterday cleared condemnation papers for logging rights within the boundaries of the Point Reyes National Seashore and sent them to the United States District Court in San Francisco.

Along with clearing the papers, the Interior Department requested the Treasury Department send a check for "just under" $300,000 to the court, according to the office of Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

These two actions, said Thomas Kornelis, seashore realty officer, should make it possible to file the papers in the district court on Monday.

When the money is filed with the papers, the federal government takes possession of the land with the actual purchase price to be determined by the court.

Logging operations on property of Bolema Palisades Inc. were halted Monday when a restraining order was issued by Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. A hearing on a permanent injunction is set for Monday at 2 p.m. in Sims' court.

Deadline Set For Fairfax Police Exam

The closing time for filing applications to take the examination for Fairfax police officer is 5 p.m. Monday, Police Chief James Orr said today.

Orr said only two persons have filed to take the examination on Nov. 9. Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years old and taller than 5 feet 8 inches.

Announcing the Ames' 5-Point Program!

Ames Ford has gained the reputation as THE automotive bargain center of Marin County—and we intend to hold onto this reputation. Not simply by being the "biggest," but by continuing our policy of selling for less—model for model—than any other Ford Dealer in Marin, or in the entire Bay Area, for that matter. It's really very simple, actually. We make satisfactory profits by sheer weight of numbers—a lot of small profits per car or truck add up to a nice sum. And we like it this way. You've shown you do, too.

THE AMERICAN HUSBAND

Her Boredom With Household Chores

Last in a series on the American husband.

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other evening a magazine editor named Robert Stein told the General Federation of Women's Clubs here that housewives led more exciting lives than their husbands did.

"She is playing a direct and indispensable part in shaping her children's lives," he said, "while he is involved in meaningless work in order to feed and clothe them."

THEY SAY Lincoln's Gettysburg address was a flop at the time of delivery and it may be that sometime in the next century Stein will be saluted as an immortal operator who uttered an enduring truth. But right now he is in the soup so far as the overwhelming number of American women are concerned. And experts are almost unanimous in the opinion that a woman's boredom with household chores is one of the toughest problems facing the American husband.

Bored women who seek psychiatric help come up with these complaints:

—The husband's job is 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week.

—The wife's job is likely to be 7:30 a.m. until the dinner dishes are washed. Seven days a week.

—The husband can look forward to retirement at age 65. The wife never retires because the meals must be cooked and the beds made regardless of whether they are living in a vine covered cottage in California or Florida.

—IN INFANCY the children are almost exclusively the responsibility of the wife. What Stein calls a "direct and indispensable part in shaping her children's lives" also means endlessly changing diapers and preparing baby food.

—A WOMAN'S WORK is made up of many small chores and sometimes it is difficult to fit them into a schedule or time table. (She can't iron the clothes until they dry).

The American husband occupies a somewhat privileged status in the eyes of students of matrimony. They assume in most cases that it is the wife who must put forth time, thought and extra effort to keep things running smoothly at home.

"FROM THE time the female child is born," writes Dr. Virgil G. Damon, "she is stronger and has a better chance for survival than the male. She is tougher, braver, more patient, more willing to sacrifice herself for the family. It takes a lot of work to make a good marriage and husbands are sometimes too busy carving out a career."

In addition to cleaning the house, buying the food, cooking the meals and washing the dishes, the American housewife is urged to take on some of the qualities of a first-class diplomat and the dazzling blond hostess in cocktail lounge. She is urged to "fib gracefully when your opinion is asked about a minor matter; say something nice if you possibly can." She also should "take 20 minutes just before he comes home to put on make-up, brush your hair and change clothes, if only to put on a clean blouse."

THE MONOTONY of housework is such a common complaint that the American Institute of Family Relations has a special course for bored housewives called "less work, more fun, for homeworkers." Some advice: it is quicker to stack dishes on your right side and move them to the left side. Alternate standing up and sitting on a stool when in the kitchen. Don't waste time trying to decide whether to have string beans or peas; flip a coin.

Make a diagram of the necessary steps in baking muffins and save waste motion. Sit down every Sunday and plan the work for each day of the coming week. Keep on good terms with your neighbors, encourage all members of the family to take part in community activities and try to maintain the reputation of being a mighty fine family.

NO MATTER what job a man holds there is an element of competition. Either he is trying to sell more groceries than his rival down the street or he is trying to edge out another man for a better job. There is not that much zest in keeping house and, in fact, the toughest competitor the housewife has is the clock. If she is going to do everything the marriage counsellors advise her to do, she is likely to find herself in a rat race. The clock is a tyrant, cracking a whip over her from morning till night and silently ordering her to drop what she is doing because it is time for the children's lunch.

American literature and folklore have been unkind to women. "A bad woman raises hell with a good many men while a good woman raises hell with only one," wrote E. W. Howe in an acid commentary on matrimony. Jiggs is the sympathetic character in an enduring comic strip and his wife, Maggie, the villainess. Ancient joke: Husband: — I feel as though I were going to have appendicitis. Wife — Well, you'll just have to wait; I need a new hat.

Much is made of the fact that the American woman has a longer life expectancy than her husband. The fact is that it is not an American phenomenon, but is true in every nation that keeps vital statistics. In Russia, for instance, females live on the average of eight years longer than males.

THE AMERICAN wife may be full of faults, but she also gets her share of unfair raps.

CHANGE OF COMMAND

John Ralph McLeran, 51, who recently resigned after six years as chief and six years as fireman and lieutenant of the Kentfield Fire Department, congratulates Kenneth Kamp, 25, new chief, who took over as chief Monday. Despite his boyish appearance, Kamp is a veteran of six years with the department and was assistant chief over its eight paid firemen and 30 volunteers.

Span Authority Accepts Low Revenue Bonds Bid

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Toll Bridge Authority yesterday accepted a low bid on 75 million dollars in revenue bonds to refinance the Carquinez and Benicia - Martinez bridges even though the interest rate was higher than expected.

The bid was for a net interest rate of 3.62730 per cent. It was submitted by Blyth and Co. of San Francisco on behalf of itself, the First Boston Corp., Harriman Ripley Co. of New York and Lehman Brothers and Associates of New York.

The interest cost for the 40-year-life of the issue was $57,546,175.

The state had proposed to call in the 1955 and 1959 bonds originally issued to finance the bridges.

With new bonds, the Toll Bridge Authority hoped to save up to three million dollars in interest costs because of a low interest rate in a more favorable bond market.

It also wrote the new issue to free 10 million dollars in surplus funds to rebuild a road from U. S. 40 to the Benicia - Martinez Bridge. Under the terms of the old bonds, the money can't be spent for the road and the 10 million dollars is presently drawing interest in the bank.

Donald Davis, financial consultant to the authority said the state would save less than one million dollars because the national bond market was "softening."

He said he doubted that the state could get a lower interest rate if it postponed the transaction.

The only other bid was for 3.36464 from F. S. Smithers and Co. of New York.

Inmate Is Found Guilty Of Escape

The jury took only a half-hour yesterday to decide James Monroe Woosley was guilty of escape from San Quentin Prison on July 1 when he left with a 15-year-old boy in a stolen car.

Woosley, 28, in prison on kidnap and robbery convictions, was captured early the next morning hiding in a field in Ignacio. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin County Superior Court sentenced Woosley to the adult authority.

Escape from prison carries a penalty of at least one year which starts at the end of the previous sentence. Woosley is a life termer.

$10,573,000 In Highway Funds Going To County

Progress, Starting Dates Are Reported By State

A total of $10,573,000 in state highway funds has been allocated for Marin County projects now in progress or soon to be started, according to a quarterly report prepared by the State Division of Highways.

The report, which gives a description and progress on all projects in the county, shows $9,944,000 in current or contemplated work on Highway 101, $618,000 in work on Route 131, the highway leading from Alto to the Tiburon Peninsula, and $11,000 on Highway 1, the coast highway.

The interchange of Highways 101 and 37 (Black Point Cutoff) south of Novato, one of the biggest jobs, is 36 per cent toward completion. The state has allocated $4,278,000 for the job.

Near this project, work is 30 per cent toward completion on 2.7 miles of six-lane freeway on Highway 101. The $4,241,000 job includes extra climbing lanes over St. Vincent's Hill and a frontage road from Pacheco Creek to San Jose Boulevard to serve Hamilton Air Force Base.

Work began Aug. 14 on new signs and new surface on Highway 101 between the Golden Gate Bridge and Waldo Undercrossing. The $283,000 project calls for restripping uphill lanes to provide four lanes of traffic.

Plans have been completed for five and one-half miles of middle barrier from a point just south of Waldo Undercrossing to Corte Madera Creek on Highway 101. The $231,000 project includes $40,000 in federal money for an experimental glare shield.

The State Division of Highways reports design well underway on ramp adjustments at Highway 101 at a point three-tenths of a mile south of Irwin Street and Third Street in San Rafael. This $500,000 project includes the northern extension of Grand Avenue across San Rafael Canal. The job is proposed in the budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The above is the first step in reconstruction of the freeway through San Rafael from the San Quentin Wye to Manuel Freitas Parkway.

Similar planning is near completion for 2.3 miles of six-lane freeway from Manuel Freitas Parkway to Mill Creek Road interchange. This is a $100,000 item in the 1964-65 state budget.

North of Novato work was completed in August on reconstruction of shoulders and under-drains at a cost of $131,000. There is $180,000 proposed for similar work in the area in the next fiscal year.

Bids were opened in August for rebuilding the shoulder for a 10th of a mile on Highway 101 south of Olema. There has been $11,000 allocated for this job.

Construction of a four-lane freeway from the Alto Interchange along Route 131 to a point east of Strawberry Drive is 75 per cent towards completion. A total of $618,000 has been allocated for this job.

The report said that funds are not yet available for similar work between Blackfield Drive and Trestle Glen, but plans on the work have been completed. Plans for extension of the route to Tiburon are currently inactive, the report said.

Planning studies are in progress for the east-west route across Marin County from San Rafael to Point Reyes Station, but the report mentions no allocation of funds for the job.

Yorty Might Run For Senate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, considered a renegade in some Democratic quarters, said yesterday he may run for the U. S. Senate, despite opposition of top party leaders.

"I don't think that the Democratic hierarchy can dictate to registered Democrats on how they're going to vote," Yorty said at his weekly news conference.

Yorty, during his turbulent political career, has had running battles with some of California's top Democratic leaders including State Democratic Chairman Eugene Wyman.

Yorty said, however, he has not yet decided whether he will enter the primary next June if ailing Sen. Clair Engle retires.

Auction, Bazaar Set for Seniors

There will be an auction and bazaar for senior citizens at the San Rafael Community Recreation Center, 37 Union Street, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Children's clothing, aprons, artificial flower arrangements and baked goods will be among the items on sale.

The auction is one of three special events scheduled for the seniors this month, the San Rafael Recreation Department reported. There will be a men's sports day next Tuesday, and a Halloween program next Thursday.

Willis Evans, fisheries supervisor with the Inland Fisheries Bureau of the Fish and Game Department, will present a lecture and film on "Fishing for Steelhead and Salmon" during the men's sports program Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon.

The regular program at the center is:

MONDAYS—Arts and crafts including mosaics from 10 a.m. to noon, card games from 12:30 to 2 p.m. and rhythm band, from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

TUESDAYS — Needlework Guild from 10 a.m. to noon, men's program from 10 a.m. to noon, card games from 12:30 to 2 p.m. and dance instruction, including folk, social and ballroom dancing, from 2 to 3 p.m.

WEDNESDAYS—Square dancing from 10 a.m. to noon, billiards and pool for men, 12:30 to 2 p.m., senior citizens project of the month (currently bookbinding and book repair for Mill Valley School District), 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

FIRST AND THIRD FRIDAYS — Special programs of movies and lectures, 10 a.m. to noon, music appreciation 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

SECOND AND FOURTH FRIDAYS — Meetings of the Marin Senior Assn., 10 a.m. to noon, and bingo and cards, 12:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Persons over 50 years of age are invited to join the program, said Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Mrs. Eve Wyatt Insurance Sales Top Million Dollars Every Year

Women life insurance agents are rather uncommon — far less numerous than women real estate agents, for example.

Marin County has one, and she's been making a good living at her profession for the past 16 years. This is Mrs. Eve Byron Wyatt of Sausalito, rated as one of the top women agents in the county for New York Life Insurance Co.

Eve Wyatt

She consistently sells more than a million dollars of insurance a year, and has already passed that mark for 1963. She is said to be the only woman agent on the West Coast who is a member of the industry's Million Dollar Round Table, and one of 23 in the United States.

"I sell almost exclusively to women because there's not as much competition," she confides. "Most men don't like to sell to women because they feel women don't have enough income to make good prospects. I also suspect some men are slightly afraid of them."

Mrs. Wyatt began her insurance career as a young widow in 1947. She has three sons.

LOU CONCILIO, general manager of Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, has been named customer relations manager in addition to his other duties. He says it's in keeping with Ford's nationwide program for such customer service.

Concilio reports that there was some initial lag in making delivery of certain models in the 1964 run, but factory shipments are now being accelerated to match the demand. They should be caught up in another month.

JOHN KOMO JR. of San Anselmo, partner in Komo-Erickson Construction Co., announces the completion of two apartment buildings in San Francisco. A 32-unit building at 15th and Dolores Streets sold for more than a half-million dollars. A 14-unit structure at Clement Street and 12th Avenue brought $310,000. Fred L. Woods of Kent Woodlands, associated with Skyline Realty in San Francisco, represented seller and purchaser in both transactions.

GORDON WALKER, president of Snack World, Inc., reports the appointment of George Shinn of Larkspur as general manager in charge of all operations. That will include managing Snack World in Larkspur's recently opened Value World Center and future Value World locations in Sacramento, Castro Valley, Napa and Stockton planned during the first six months of 1964. Shinn has had six years in food and management.

MEADOWBROOK HUNT CLUB in Novato has a new manager — John T. Kirkland who formerly managed Stanford Stables. He is a specialist in jumping and dressage. Newly elected club officers for the year are Edward Doherty of San Rafael, president; Stephen Zollezzi of Sausalito, vice president; Walter Zollezzi of San Francisco, secretary-treasurer.

One of the great apes—the rare red-haired orangutan of Borneo and Sumatra—faces extinction at the hand of man.

Novato's Council Has Six Members

Novato has six members on its city council, but the sixth (who, incidentally, is an attorney) isn't legally a member.

The whole confusion will be rectified, according to Mayor M. E. Babe Silva, at the council's next regular meeting, next Tuesday night.

It came about, apparently, because the council acted without checking the law or getting advice from the city attorney.

On Sept. 22, Councilman Howard Schoof tendered his resignation, effective Oct. 31.

Last week, Mayor Silva called a special meeting — behind closed doors—for Thursday evening to select a new councilman. With Schoof absent, the other four members went into "executive session" and emerged to announce appointment of attorney Robert D. Carrow.

Schoof, however, is still on the council, his resignation not taking effect until the end of the month.

Moreover, the California government code provides that appointments to fill city council vacancies must be made at a regular or adjourned meeting of the council. Another section of the government code provides that such meetings must be open to the public.

Mayor Silva said today he has a second resignation from Schoof, effective Oct. 18, "which we will accept on Oct. 29." Then the council, at its meeting Oct. 29, will re-appoint Carrow, Silva explained.

Silva said City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. had not been consulted because he was out of town. He was in his office, however, a few hours before the meeting last Thursday. At that time he said he had received no request from mayor or council for legal advice regarding the appointment.

No Smelly Cheese?

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A can of earthworms is the traditional bait for fish, and is one of the best. But it by no means exhausts the list. Around here, you may find the fisherman next to you is using live mice, soap balls, canned corn or peas, raw potato, turnips or popcorn.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFED SHEINWOLD

Don't Give Up Ship When Playing A Game Of Bridge

You're in bad shape when an opponent has more trumps than you, but don't throw in the towel.

It may be possible to make your opponent waste a trump.

Opening lead — ♡ 10

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts and led the king of spades next, intending to draw trumps and give up one club trick.

CLUB DISCARDED

When East discarded a club on the first round of trumps South had to revise his plan.

South still had to develop a club trick, but then the bad trump break might be fatal.

South abandoned trumps in order to lead a club at the third trick. West took the ace of clubs and led another heart, forcing South to ruff.

SECONDARY SUIT

Now South had only three trumps and West had four. How was declarer to take the rest of the tricks?

South used his long diamonds as a secondary trump suit.

He led out his high diamonds, waiting expectantly to see what West would do.

CLAIM SLAM?

West couldn't afford to ruff a diamond, for dummy would overruff and lead another trump.

South would then be able to draw the rest of the trumps and claim the slam.

When West proceeded to discard on the diamonds, declarer threw away dummy's clubs.

He was then able to ruff the queen of clubs with dummy's ten, and his own trumps took the rest of the tricks.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 24, the 297th day of 1963 with 68 to follow.

The moon is approaoching its first quarter. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

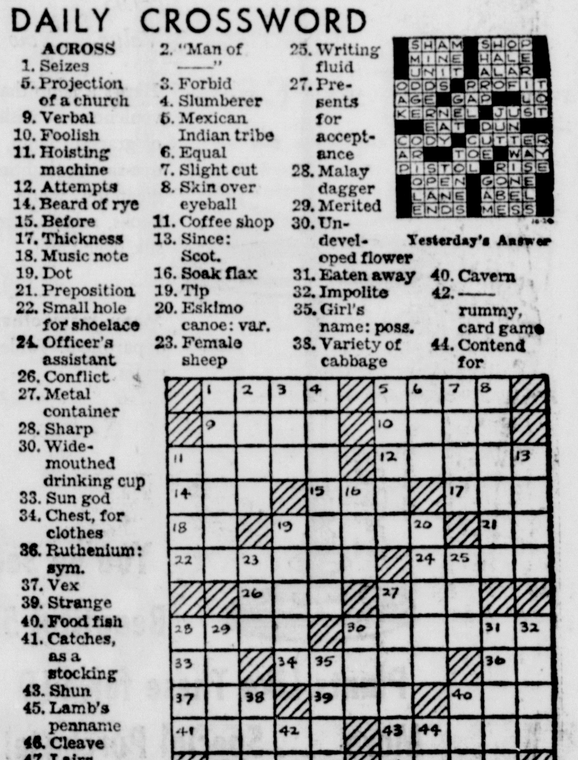

On this day in history:

In 1861, the first telegram was sent across the United States when California Chief Justice Field sent a message to President Abraham Lincoln in Washington, D.C.

In 1945, Secretary of State James Byrnes announced the charter of the United Nations was in force after the Soviet Union ratified it.

A thought for the day — Scottish essayist Thomas Carlyle said: "All work is as seed sown; it grows and spreads, and sows itself anew."

In 1952, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, campaigning for the presidency, said if elected he would go to Korea to seek an end to the war there.

In 1901, Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor went over Niagara Falls in a barrel—the first person to survive such a stunt.

Too Many Vitamins Dangerous

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — What makes a vitamin intoxication a horror to a physician is that its signs can be confused with those of a brain tumor. And also with those of serious meningitis, chronic encephalitis and infectious arthritis — to name a few without mentioning neurosis.

The complaining physicians were Drs. Joaquin Soler-Bechara and John L. Soscia of New York's St. Vincent's Hospital, and theirs were the latest scientific voices raised in alarm at the fabulous rate at which Americans now dose themselves with vitamins.

They had just completed a 36-day hospital dealing with a 39-year-old female secretary who for years had been dosing herself heavily with Vitamin A, in addition to multiple-vitamins, in the belief it would bolster her fading energy. One sign of Vitamin A intoxication is energy loss.

Her bewildering array of major signs were fatigue, weight loss, bone and joint pains, bone tenderness, loss of body hair, itching, dry skin, enlargements of liver and spleen, anemia, headache and skin rashes. The eventual cure turned out to be simple. She was deprived of her Vitamin A.

Soler-Bechara and Soscia were so aroused they made an exhaustive study of what medical science has learned about Vitamin A intoxication since the first case was reported in 1944. They reported this study to a technical publication of the American Medical Assn.

There have been only a few cases of acute intoxication, in small children and in Arctic explorers. The former got huge single doses of Vitamin A from solicitous mothers; the explorers got their huge single doses by eating the liver of the polar bear.

The others were chronic cases "and these may exist for years without recognition," they said. "The present-day sales of vitamins emphasizes the awareness that must be exerted by physicians. Drugstore sales of vitamin products reached a total of 250 million dollars in 1960."

One good indication is a feelable enlargement of liver and spleen. The human liver is known to store Vitamin A but not at the rate at which the polar bear liver scores it.

"Using fluorescence microscopy, Vitamin A can be visualized in tissues," they added. "A striking green fluorescence is imparted by this substance to the lipoids (fats or oils) which carry it, the degree of fluorscence depending on the amount of Vitamin A present."

Another voice recently raised against over-indulgence in vitamins was that of Dr. Dana W. Atchley, emeritus professor of clinical medicine at the Columbia University-Presbyterian Hospital Medical Center, New York.

The one magical thing remaining from the old days of magic medicine is "the indiscriminate administration of vitamins," he said. "And the old, old question always arises. How much does the magician healer really believe in his therapy?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Kidney Infection Common In Children —Complete Checkup Is Suggested

VAN DELLEN

The kidney infection, pyelonephritis, is common in children. As a rule, the causative micro-organisms enter from below and may infect the bladder on their way up to the kidneys. Little girls, for anatomical reasons, are most susceptible.

A severe infection brings chills, fever, nausea, and vomiting. Burning and frequency of urination occur and distress may be so acute, the child holds back until the bladder is distended beyond control.

The urine teems with pus cells and bacteria. Several sulfonamides and antibiotics are available to control the infection but this is not enough; treatment often has to be continued for several weeks and periodic urinalyses must be done for 18 months thereafter. This is logical because the disorder tends to recur in a mild but persistent form.

IN ADDITION, many victims of pyelonephritis never have the acute or severe form of the disease because it escapes detection unless the youngster complains of bladder symptoms. This organ is vulnerable because it stores the infected urine from the kidneys. Consequently, varying degrees of cystitis (inflamed bladder) coexist and this frequently provides the clue that the kidneys are involved.

The bladder becomes irritable and the child urinates small amounts at frequent intervals. Others cry whenever urine is passed because it burns or hurts. These complaints should not be ignored just because the child is healthy and happy otherwise.

CHRONIC KIDNEY infections become more serious as the years pass. Some types of high blood pressure are traced to this condition. Uremia may occur when the kidneys refuse to function properly.

Any chronic or recurring infection of the urinary tract deserves a thorough study, including X-rays of the kidneys and, if necessary, a cystoscopic examination in which the physician looks inside the bladder with a special tube. Conditions such as stones, tumors, or defects along the passageway encourage urinary tract infections. A complete checkup is the best way to detect them.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

HEAT HELPS

Mrs. C. R. writes: Is it better for a woman with arthritis of the fingers to keep the hands out of water?

REPLY

No, provided heat does not increase the swelling. In general, warm water is helpful and many arthritics find washing dishes good therapy for this condition.

NO FLASHES

Mrs. A. writes: I am a woman of 76 and still have not had hot flashes. Do you think I will ever get them?

REPLY

Only time will tell because there are other causes of hot flashes. Some women never get them when going through the menopause.

DON'T ASK FOR IT

R. B. writes: Do you think it wise for a tense, overanxious person to force himself into situations that seem impossible to handle, in hopes of overcoming the anxiety?

REPLY

No. It is a wise man who knows his limitations.

FLUID IN TISSUES

Mrs. P. writes: Why do some people collect fluid in the body?

REPLY

Because of a glandular disorder; a heart, liver, and lung disease; or insufficient proteins in the diet.

Radioactive Carbon Increases In People

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK—A sample of the hair of nine-month-old baby and of the blood of a 24-year-old adult both contained considerably more radioactive carbon than was normal for human beings before hydrogen bombs were exploded in the atmosphere.

The hair sample was taken only a year ago and the blood sample only last month. From these and other calculations the Norse scientist, Reidar Nydal, demonstrated this radioactive carbon "made" by bomb explosions is going into people at an ever-increasing rate.

Even if there are no further atmospheric bomb tests, it will be three or four years before the sharp increase will level off. At that time the amount in people will be two to three times the normal, especially the people of the Northern Hemisphere.

Nydal's mathematics were an indirect explanation of why the Swedes awarded a Nobel Peace Prize to the American chemist Dr. Linus C. Pauling. Scandinavia has gotten its full share of radioactive fall-out from bombs and has been deeply worried about it. Pauling led a world-wide campaign to abolish atmospheric testing which was crowned by the recent treaty.

Nydal works at the Norwegian Institute of Technology in Trondheim. He was concerned with perhaps the most potentially vicious of fall-out particles. That is the radioactive isotope,

Hospital Stay Like Vacation

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP) — Some patients at the Euclid-Glenville Hospital have found their hospitalization to be some what of a vacation.

At least the traditional hospital surroundings are not there.

Patients in the hospital's new Convalescent Care Unit have cherry furniture, attractive wallpaper, soothing pastel curtains, telephones and a beautiful view of Lake Erie. A push of a button raises or lowers an electric bed.

And it costs less, too, because the convalescing patients no longer need a full nursing staff.

Ethopia, unlike most African nations, was enjoying nationhood when Athens was still in its infancy.

Thet Spanish-speaking population of the Dominican Republic, some 3,014,000, lives in some 19,000 square miles, nearly the size of Vermont and New Hampshire combined.

Credit Card Business Is Firming Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — The credit card business is firming up after going through some rocky times.

This is due mainly to two factors: The card companies have weeded out the bad risks that cut into their profits in the early days of the business.

New Internal Revenue Service regulations on expense accounts have made substantiation of certain expenditures necessary.

And, says Howard L. Clark, president of American Express Co., which is observing the fifth anniversary of its entrance into the credit card business: "The rise in credit card use is a reflection of more and more people deciding that a credit card is a respectable and useful document."

The big three of the credit card field are Diners Club, American Express and Carte Blanche. Together they represent about 2.5 million cardholders who pay dues of eight million dollars annually and account for 450 million dollars in receivables.

Clark said profits from American Express credit cards this year will be substantial but the company does not break down net income of the cards from other activities. He predicted that credit card volume for 1963 will total 235 million dollars against 189 million dollars last year.

Diners Club had 200 million dollars in worldwide receivables in 1962 and said volume and profit would be up this year.

Carte Blanche's receivables dropped from 104 million dollars in 1961 to 85 million dollars in 1962. Current figures were not immediately available.

In addition to the big three, there are about 40 bank credit plans remaining out of about 100 which were formed during the initial rush to get into the field.

There also are retail credit card plans which cater chiefly to customers of shopping centers.

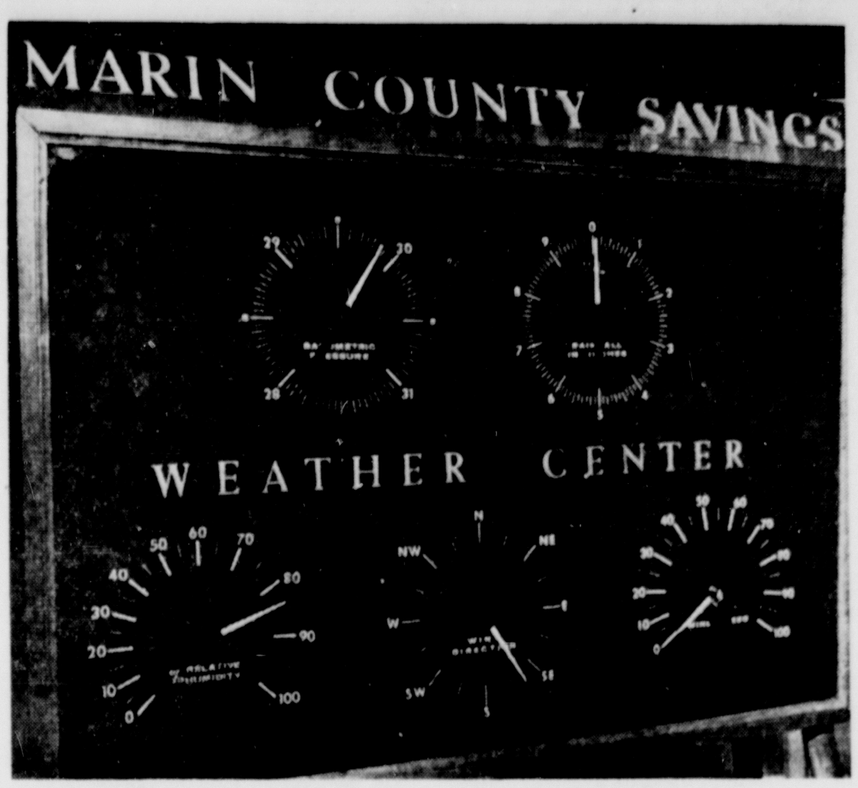

Cardholders pay an annual fee for membership. They can charge meals, hotel expenses, etc. The establishment patronized pays the credit card company a percentage and the company bills the member.

The credit card companies provide forms on which the cardholder can designate the time and place and the reason for his expenditure. This furnishes a record for submission to the Internal Revenue Service, which now requires an accounting of expense account expenditures exceeding $25.

Redwood High Paper Wins Top Honor

It was an All-American year for the 1962-1963 newspaper staff at Redwood High School.

This week the National Scholastic Press Assn. at the school of journalism of University of Minnesota gave the Redwood Bark its top honor rating for the second straight semester.

The new award, for newspapers published during the spring semester, 1963 went to only 94 other newspapers in the nation.

Earlier, theBark won a similar award for fall semester, 1962, issues, becoming the first school newspaper in Marin County to do so.

Editor of the 1962-63 Bark was Toni Banducci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Banducci, Larkspur, now a freshman at University of Colorado. While Bark editor, she won a national editorial writing contest for comments on the Cuban crisis in October, 1962.

Talk About Weather? Firm Does Something

Everyone talks about the weather, so one San Rafael firm is making certain the latest information on the subject is available to round out the discussion.

Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., which has flashed minute-by-minute temperature readings and time of day on the exterior walls of its offices at Fifth Avenue and Court Street, is now supplying passersby with barometric pressure, wind direction and speed, relative humidity, daily rainfall and cumulated rainfall for the season.

These details are not posted in overhead lighting, but are contained on a special window panel. Wind and rainfall gauges are activated electronically by equipment on the roof of the building. A receptacle used to collect precipitation automatically dumps its contents at 6 p.m. daily, then starts a new 24-hour accumulation.

Data from the recording devices which were installed by the American Sign and Indicator Corp. can also be used to forecast weather conditions. But Marin Savings and Loan will make no attempt to analyze the information.

"We have enough trouble now forecasting events in our own field," said Fred F. Enemark, the firm's executive vice president. "The new equipment is there for the convenience of the sidewalk experts."

TIME FOR A LITTLE CHEW

Goffy, a silly squirrel if ever there was one, used to like golf balls as is well known to habituees of the Memphis, Tenn., Golf Club. His base of operations used to be the sixth green, but with winter coming on he has decided to take to cigars in the pro shop rather than fleeing with the balls of outraged golfers. (AP Wirephoto)

Sausalito Schools Launch New Program for 'Deprived'

Sausalito School District has launched a pioneer program, one of 24 in the state, to help "culturally deprived" children.

Supt. Marcus F. Davis announced today that Dr. Charles Nagel of the county schools office has been hired under contract to coordinate the program in Sausalito.

The project, known as the compensatory education project, is financed under the McAteer Act, which appropriated $318,000 for pilot studies throughout California. Seventy-four school districts applied for funds. The Sausalito district was one of 24 which received the grants. Sausalito will get $12,000 for the program.

A "disadvantaged child," Dr. Nagel explained, "is one who is a low achiever but has potential. There may be some factors in relation to their environment which may have kept them as disadvantaged."

The program will apply to 500 pupils in all four schools: Central, Bayside, Richardson Bay and Manzanita.

The purpose of the program is to take low achievers who have potential, then bring in key people and equipment such as audio - visual aid to bring to children's attention areas missed during his earlier years.

Sausalito School District, for many years, has tried to overcome the handicaps faced by the "disadvantaged" child. It has established a study hall center at Richardson Bay School, provided remedial teaching for those lacking reading skill, conducted field trips, provided a child care center in Marin City, and arranged with student teachers to assist in individual instruction in classrooms.

A steering committee has been appointed, consisting of Superintendent Davis; Dr. Nagel; Robert D. Thomson, principal of Richardson Bay School; Morrison Gardner, school psychologist; Nancy James, school nurse; Mrs. Adele Larson, guidance counselor, and Mrs. Marjorie Sutthoff, teacher of remedial reading.

The steering committee has developed these plans for the special program:

1. Provide in-service training program for teachers working with "disadvantaged" children.
2. Identify children who are having difficulty with the regular school program.
3. Emphasize "language arts skills" with these children.
4. Involve parents through parent - teacher conferences, special invitations to parents, and home visits by teachers.

Students Make Money For Prom

The Redwood High School junior class earned over $90 from activities it sponsored during Spirit Week, reported Dirk Noyes, class president.

The junior car wash, last Saturday in the school's parking lot, netted $35. Sale of red and white carnations at the game netted $55.

The money will be used to present the junior prom, set for the spring semester.

Fallout Levels 'Below Need For Protective Action'

BERKELEY (UPI) — Radioactive fallout levels in California are far below the point at which protective action is needed for public health, State Public Health Director Malcolm Merrill said yesterday.

Spring milk from northwestern California had the highest Strontium 90 concentrations ever recorded in the state, Merrill said, but the levels dropped "markedly" in the dry season.

Merrill reported on radioactivity levels in the first of the monthly reports he is now required to issue under a law passed by the legislature this year.

He said current levels of airborne radioactivity are about five times higher than before resumption of atmospheric nuclear tests in 1961. But last month's levels were five to 10 times lower than those of late 1961 and most of 1962, he said.
